Shot as Police Probe Quarrel

Man Slain In Yard At Home

Suspect Held By Officers

Solomon W. Moore, 40, of 136½ North Adams street, was shot and killed in his own backyard shortly before 9 p. m. yesterday while two Mansfield police officers were at his home to investigate a report of an argument between Moore and a Miller street resident.

The Miller street man was apprehended by officers at the scene immediatcly after the shooting. He is held under investigation in city jail.

Moore was shot in the upper left chest, the bullet severing a large vein into the heart. It was believed the shooting occurred in an adjoining backyard at 142 North Adams street, where a .38-calibre revolver was found in the soft earth beneath a peach tree. Moore stumbled into his own backyard after being shot and collapsed in a pool of blood, about five feet from his back door.

Married and the father of one child, Moore was reported alone in his apartment when the second man entered. The argument followed. Relatives of the victim said he and the suspect had only recently met.

According to officers at the scene shortly after the shooting, Patrolmen Carl Letizia and Joseph Greving had been detailed to the Moore residence at 8:40 p. m. The complainant was Mrs. John L. Vinson, 132 North Adams street, sister of the victim and next-door neighbor. Mrs. Vinson said she heard two men arguing and called "the law."

LEAVE HOUSE

Patrolmen Letizia and Greving arriving at the scene, found the two men in Moore's rooms on the second floor of the house. The second man was reported to have left the house and patrolmen told Moore to stay upstairs. It was believed that as the patrolmen were leaving the house on the first floor, Moore slipped past them and out into the backyard.

Mrs. Vinson told police she heard her brother yell: "Don't shoot me," and then heard the shot.

"I was so scared I didn't know what was going on," she added.

Police said they confiscated a 12-gauge shot gun from the victim's apartment during the argument was not known.

The victim's body has been removed to the Geiger funeral home. It will remain there until Wednesday when it will be shipped to Memphis, Tenn., for services and burial.

Born in Swan Lake, Miss., on March 4, 1909, Moore came to Mansfield three years ago and was a former employe of Westinghouse. He also served in the army ordnance department during World War II.

Survivors are his wife, Ann; one daughter, Elvira; one brother, George W. of Memphis, Tenn.; two sisters, Mrs. Daisy Vinson of Mansfield and Mrs. Evelyn Love of Webb, Miss.

Two Stoned As Strife Flares

YOUNGSTOWN — (INS) — All Youngstown swimming pools were open again today, despite the second outbreak of inter-racial violence within a week.

Two Negro swimmers in the city's south side pool were stoned late yesterday and four others chased away by a group of whites. Neither of the two was hurt seriously, however.

Last week police were called to aid a father and his three children who had been threatened by white persons swimming in the east side pool.

Bulletins

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate today rejected a straight out proposal to keep Taft-Hartley law injunctions against national emergency strikes.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(UP) —The United Nations Korean commission today reported heavy fighting between troops from southern Korea and contingents of the northern Korean army.

Heat Here For Stay Of 5 Days

Mansfielders are in for another five days of hot, sticky weather with a few scattered thundershowers to add to the humidity. The five-day forecast indicates no major change for the area.

The collar wilting weather is expected to continue here but cool air and rain brought temporary relief to many areas in the nation's hot weather belt today.

The dry-stricken northeastern states didn't get much rain to help the wilting crops, but cooling breezes from the Hudson bay region broke a long hot spell in many sections.

Rain over many midwest states also brought temporary relief from the hot humid weather. Heavy falls were reported in parts of Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska.

New York, sweltering in hot and humid weather and without substantial falls of rain for 32 days, got welcome relief last night as the mass of cool air moved in. The mercury hit a high of 89.4 during the day and it was 86 at 9 o'clock last night. Then the cool air hit the metropolis and sent the mercury down 10 degrees.

Mansfielders suffered under a humid 77 degrees yesterday but the temperature is expected to go much higher today with an 84 degree reading recorded at Municipal airport at noon.

Fair Board To Ask Bids

Plans Improvements, Repairs At Grounds

The Richland county fairgrounds will be spruced up for the county junior fair which opens on Aug. 18 for three days.

The fair board last night authorized improvements and repairs and made preparations for requesting bids on the work.

A major project will be rewiring of all buildings on the grounds which require the work.

A bid of the McKinley Roofing company, Mansfield, read at last night's meeting for the roofing and spout repair work to be done on five buildings totaled $492. The Richland Electric company offered a bid of $195 for electrical work. There were two bidders for the painting needed. O. L. Perry and William Emerson, painting contractors, entered a bid of $2.034 and Cal's Spray Painting company bid $1,065 for labor and materials and $725 for labor only.

The Glasener company was represented at the meeting by C. J. Pittenger who said the company would enter a bid for the entire project.

County agent C. N. McGrew estimated the number of animals to be exhibited and asked the board to provide adequate space for the exhibits. McGrew expects 106 dairy and beef animals, 90 pigs, 31 poultry, 21 rabbits, and 22 sheep.

There will be no school exhibits in the fair this year, Boyd Robinson, county superintendent said today, because the teachers had decided not to participate this year.

Appointed chairmen of the following exhibits were, Charles Oberlin, cattle; Floyd Mowery, sheep; Earl Huston, hogs; Thomas Sheppard, poultry and rabbit; Herman Matthes, board vice president is to manage the police guard.

Statesman Flays Unpreparedness

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Bernard Baruch took the Truman administration to task today for failing to have ready a standby total mobilization plan for a possible new war.

The 77-year-old elder statesman said the need for such a plan "never was greater" because "the cold war is as total as actual war."

"Yet," he said, "with the cold war dragging into its fourth year, we still lack any effective plan for the swiftest possible mobilization of our resources to insure reaching our allies in time."

WHERE VICTIM DIED—The blood-stained grass on which Solomon W. Moore, 40, of 136½ North Adams street, fell and died last night after a fatal bullet was fired from an adjoining lot, is pointed out for the cameraman by next-door neighbors. Martin Jacox, left, and John L. Vinson, brother-in-law of the victim, point to the spot where Moore died seconds after the shooting which occurred shortly before 9 p. m. Both Jacox and Vinson reside at 132 North Adams. Both said they were absent from home at the time of the murder.

Signatures Pass One-Third Mark

Over 600 Sign City Charter Petitions

More than a third of the signatures necessary to place on the ballot in November the question of a charter form of government for Mansfield had been reported today.

Al Preyer, chairman of the Citizens committee for Council-Manager, said that at a meeting of executive committee members last night 20 persons reported having obtained more than 600 signatures. More than 100 additional volunteer workers have been busy for the last week circulating the petitions.

A total of approximately 1,800 signatures is necessary to qualify the issue for appearance on the ballot. Preyer said the committee hoped to have more than 2,000 signatures before a meeting of the general committee, scheduled for July 12.

"On the basis of reports so far received, it appears that the petitions are being well received," Preyer said, "and had it been possible to obtain reports last night from all the persons circulating the petitions, I have no doubt that the total of signatures reported would have been much higher.

"Fundamentally," Preyer added, "the entire program to place the charter question on the November ballot is built around an effort to obtain a city manager. If the issue is placed on the ballot, voters will be asked to do two things in November:

"1 — Vote 'yes' or 'no' on the question: 'Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter for Mansfield.'

"2 — Indicate the 15 candidates they favor for election to the commission.

"The 15 candidates receiving the largest number of votes will form the commission. It will be up to them to write the charter for Mansfield, determining the type of government to be formed, the number of city councilmen to be elected and how, and to define the responsibility of council and of the city manager.

"The charter, as written by the commission, then will be submitted to the voters for approval or rejection."

Talk On Picketing

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Lawyers for the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the National Labor Relations board worked today on an agreement on picketing at Cooper-Bessemer corporation at Mount Vernon.

St. Laurent Tops Voting

TORONTO — (AP) — The Liberal party of Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent has won a smashing political victory reminiscent of the 1936 landslide of the Roosevelt new deal.

Returns today from the national election showed the Liberals — Canada's nearest equivalent to the Democrats— had won 193 of the 262 seats in a new House of Commons. They led in all provinces but Alberta. It was the greatest party triumph in Canadian history.

The Progressive Conservatives, the main opposition party, took 42 seats. The other commons members will come from minor parties.

It was a personal triumph for St. Laurent, who has been in politics only eight years.

FIND BODY ON TRACK

NEWARK —(AP)— The body of Jesse Roland Strait, 37, Baltimore and Ohio railroad fireman, was found today alongside B. and O. tracks here.

Score Phone Rate Boost

Farmers Asked To List Complaints

Township Farm Bureau representatives will get sworn statements from Mansfield Telephone company subscribers about the poor quality of service in the county, Farm Bureau spokesmen said today.

Members of the Farm Bureau legislative committee in the townships went on record at a meeting last night at John Todd park as being opposed to the proposed rate increase on the grounds that service was unsatisfactory.

The representatives also felt that the raise in Richland county might influence other nearby companies to raise their rates.

The Department of Agriculture was discussed and the group passed a resolution to start a program to "take the politics out of the department" and put farmers in.

The group passed a resolution opposing the Ohio House of Representatives Rule 14, to reapportion representation in the state legislature.

Other problems discussed were House Bill 434, Timber Harvesting control, increases of postal rates, state and county fairs, and the marking of county roads.

Death Claims Civil War Veteran At 111

CINCINNATI — (AP) — George Carroll, 111-year-old Civil War veteran who was born in slavery, died early today at the home of a relative.

The grey-haired and wizened Negro, who was born in Owentown, Ky., on Christmas day, 1837, had attributed his long life to "hard work and good living."

Reds Ban Closed Meetings

Action Aimed At Catholics

PRAGUE — (INS) — The Czechoslovak government issued a decree today prohibiting all Catholic church meetings behind closed doors unless official approval is obtained three days in advance.

A proclamation by the ministry of education said that this latest restriction on Roman Catholic activities is designed to allay suspicion that the participants in such meetings are engaged in "subversive" work.

The new measure followed a warning by high communist officials to the Roman Catholic bishops of Czechoslovakia that they may be "punished" for any steps taken against members of the so-called "Catholic action committees."

These communist-backed groups are attempting to bring about a fusion between church and state that would place the hierachy under government control.

The communist warning was directed against alleged "persecution" of committee members.

KEEP "HANDS OFF"

In the latest development in the bitter struggle between the Prague regime and Archbishop Josef Beran, two cabinet officers indirectly advised the bishops to keep "hands off" the "Catholic action."

Education Minister Zdenek Nejedly, quoted in the communist organ Rude Pravo, decreed that prelates who imposed fines of "a political character" were lawbreakers and were "themselves liable to penalties."

The decree advised the bishops to note that "nobody in Czechoslovakia would be allowed to be persecuted because of their loyalty as citizens."

(The Vatican has disavowed all members of the government-run "Catholic Action," which it charges is a communist organ, aimed at splitting the church.)

Equality of Sexes Called The 'Bunk'

CINCINNATI — (INS) — Equality of men and women is bunk. That's what Dr. Paul Popenoe, director of the American Institute of Family Relations at Los Angeles told today's sessions of the University of Cincinnati social hygiene institute.

Popenoe also said the old idea of superior man and inferior woman added up to just as much malarkey.

The Californian continued:

"Many women are maladjusted and neurotic through life because they were brought up to wise that they were not women but men instead . . . such women have been told by their mothers ! . . it's a man's world and it's a misfortune to be born a woman. They may refuse to marry, or marry and spend their lives punishing their husbands for the supposed sins of the whole male sex."

PRIZE LIST REVEALED

COLUMBUS — (INS) — The 1949 State fair catalog lists prizes totaling $21,618 in the breeding beef and commercial cattle department of the coming show.

Youth Takes Passengers On Wild Trip

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Nicholas Vass jr., 19, fulfilled a life-time dream today by stealing a Cleveland Transit System bus, passengers and all—and ended up in jail.

Vass told police the entire affair began this morning when he noticed a driverless bus, with nine or 10 passengers on it, parked on a city street.

"I speculated a minute about that bus and those passengers," he stated, "and the next thing I knew I was getting in."

Then began a joy-ride through east side Cleveland streets during which, Vass said, "the passengers were breathing on my neck, wanting to get off."

Berlin Rail Workers Go Back On Job

Few Still Fear Soviet Reprisals

BERLIN — (UP) — All but a handful of West Berlin's 16,000 railway strikers went back to work today and railway traffic was expected to resume before nightfall.

Headquarters of the strikers' independent non-communist union said 98 per cent of the men who had been on strike for 39 days reported for work.

Within two hours, they were checking rail and other installations in preparation for a resumption of traffic on both Berlin's elevated railways and the single-track line between Berlin and western Germany.

U. S. transport officials expected the first freight train from western Germany since May 27 to reach Berlin tonight.

They said the first U. S. Army passenger train from Berlin to western Germany will leave here at 9:45 p. m. (2:45 p. m. EST)

Union officials said the 300-odd strikers who did not report for work lived in the soviet sector and apparently feared reprisals despite Soviet assurances there would be none except against those who had committed "crimes."

With the end of the strike, west sector police guarding stations in West Berlin withdrew and Soviet-controlled railway police took over. The western police had ousted railway police early in the strike to prevent violence by strikers.

The Soviet-bossed railway administration said it would resume service on the city's elevated railways after inspecting tracks, switches and other installations to be sure they are safe.

Resumption of the Berlin-West Germany freight traffic on full schedule was delayed by the necessity of clearing clogged freight yards and moving into Berlin the 28 freight trains stalled outside the city by the strike.

The Anglo-American airlift continued as though the strike still were on. Sir Brian Robertson, British military governor, said the airlift would continue until the city's stocks had been built to the level prevailing before Russia imposed a land blockade on western Berlin more than a year ago.

2,000 Return To Dock Work

LONDON — (UP) — An anonymous longshoreman today talked 2,000 of his striking comrades into deciding to go back to work at London's royal docks. Four thousand other strikers in southeast ports are expected to follow suit.

Nobody knew who the longshoreman was. But in five minutes he did what the best brains in the government and union leaders had failed to do. Sweat pouring down his face in the hot early morning sunlight, the man jumped on a little mound at an open-air meeting of the dock strikers and shouted:

"I'm just one of the rank and file. I've been at the back with the rest of you, and I'm just getting tired of all this."

Islanders Flee Volcano Threat

SANTA CRUZ DE TENERIFE, CANARY ISLANDS —(INS)— Volcanic shocks and spurting flows of lava today sent terrified villagers running to safety from a four-square mile area in the Canary islands.

Two huge craters were blasted open in the Pozo and Luencaliente regions of the islands.

One-Vote Margin Foreseen

3 Amendments Facing Action

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Victory claims from both sides marked the Senate's show-down vote today on the labor injunction issue in the Taft-Hartley fight.

The outcome looks more and more like a marginal decision of perhaps one vote.

Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, leading the battle for use of injunctions in national emergency strikes, forecast a final victory with confidence that was not shared by some of his backers.

Taft predicted that the proposal of Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., to knock injunctive power from Taft's seizure-or-injunction amendment will be defeated by "seven or eight votes."

Lucas, like Taft, told reporters:

"I think we'll win, but it will be close."

VOTE ON HOUSING

In the House, leaders pressed for a final vote on the administration's public housing bill with Speaker Rayburn predicting passage by a "substantial majority."

A new issue was thrown into the five-day-old fight, however, when Rep. Marcantonio (A.L.) N. Y., announced that an anti-segregation amendment would be offered, either by himself or by Rep. Powell (D) N. Y.

The amendment would make it a misdemeanor, subject to $5,000 fine for anyone to bar a Negro from renting a low-cost apartment constructed under the legislation with federal aid. Discrimination in employment would also be barred in the buildings' construction.

Meanwhile, Secretary of Defense Johnson told Congress today that the nation's peacetime military forces must be "permanently" maintained at more than a million and a half men.

He advised the House Armed Services committee that conditions have arisen since the war "which unmistakably require that the United States maintain a strong military establishment throughout the foreseeable future."

These conditions, he continued, arose essentially from "the total disruption of the prewar power relationships in Europe" and thus require the permanent maintenance of a large military force "for the first time in the nation's (peacetime) history."

The present strength of the army, navy and airforce is approximately 1,626,000 officers and enlisted personnel, a sharp contrast to the less than 200,000 maintained by the United States in the peaceful years succeeding World War I.

Will Spurn Coal Offer

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. — (AP) — Coal operators of the north and west were reported ready to reject today John L. Lewis' offer to forego a strike next month in return for a three-day work week.

The operators took a vote on the question yesterday in a private huddle in Pittsburgh.

There was little doubt of their answer — that they could not agree because of the legal risks. They fear if they join the union in limiting the work week, they would run the chance of government action under the anti-trust laws, on the ground it would restrain trade.

A spokesman for the Central Pennsylvania Coal association said his group was against the proposal because it was "too costly." He said mines would have to be kept in shape for full production, although actually operating only at about 50 per cent capacity.

Publicly, the operators and Lewis wouldn't even discuss the plan. The operators planned to hand their formal answer to Lewis when the bargaining conference resumes here late today.

Killed By Train

ALLIANCE — (AP) — Floyd E. Ruggly, about 35, of Alliance, was killed early today by a freight train on the Pennsylvania line at Toronto near here. Coroner J. P. Smarrella said Ruggly was either attempting to board the train or fell from it.

Hospitals Take 'Breather' After Rush

Patients Get Rooms After Using Halls

Attendants at General hospital breathed a sigh of relief this morning as they got patients out of beds in the halls for the first time in a number of days.

However, they were keeping their fingers crossed, because as Wayne A. Copeland, hospital superintendent, put it this morning the rush of admissions may have begun again by the time The News-Journal is off the presses.

Copeland said the hospital has been "very, very full" for the past few days, but the rush seemed to be letting up a little today. Every bed in the hospital has been full and patients have been placed in beds in the corridor temporarily.

Although Copeland said he could not explain the rush, he added the hospital has been averaging eight to 10 tonsilectomies every day since school closed for the summer vacation. The large number of births last week also taxed hospital facilities.

The capacity number of patients which has been occurring more and more frequently at the city hospital emphasizes the need for increased hospital facilities in Mansfield.

Not only has General hospital been filled to capacity, but both Madison and People's hospitals also reported nearly every bed in use today.

Man, 94, Says 'Stay Single'

HUNTINGTON, Mass. —(UP) —Don't develop a craving for luxuries if you want to live a long time, Samuel Gibbs advised as he celebrated his 94th birthday.

Gibbs credited his own longevity to the fact he never developed any habits, bad or otherwise.

"Used to have a cup of coffee every morning," he said. "Found it was getting to be a habit so I cut it out.

"Used to like going to dances, too," said Gibbs, who neither drinks nor smokes. "Found that was getting to be a habit, so I stopped. Been a bachelor all these years and never regretted it."

22 Enter Richland County Junior Meet

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK —UP)— The lean, rangy man weighed two shiny new bats in his eager hands, looked wistfully out at the left field stands and then stepped cautiously into the batting cage with a muttered:

"Well, here goes"

The stands were bare with a yawning emptiness. Only his team mates were on hand, watching silently two hours before game time, as Joltin' Joe DiMaggio finally came back to the Yankees.

They watched closely, and a bit fearfully, as the clipper took his cuts. Since April 11, a week before the season opened, he had been on the sidelines. Now he was coming back—maybe.

DIMAG SWUNG slowly and easily at first. Then he really leaned into the pitch and sent a ball winging crisply far into "DiMaggio corner" his personal home run spot out in left field. Everybody seemed to breathe easier and there was just the hint of a smile on his lips.

Joe finally jogged out of the cage and, picking up his second bat, held them out to Charley Keller and asked:

"Which one feels heavier?"

It was a casual question. But it showed that DiMag was satisfied that his ailing heel finally would stand the gaff.

★

THE GIANTS came out on the field then, to prepare for their inter-league charity game, and Joe retired to the bench. He sat quietly through an egg-throwing contest won by Hank Behrman and Kirby Higbe of the Giants from the Yankees' Ed Lopat and Frank Shea. And he made no move, his face a mask, as the Giants won an infield relay race against time.

Then came the home run contest. The Giants used Willard Marshall, Sid Gordon, Bobby Thompson and Johnny Mize. The Yankees called on Yogi Berra, Johnny Lindell, Tommy Henrich and DiMaggio.

They batted alternately in that order, which meant that Joe was last to take his five cuts at the ball. And with only him remaining, it was tied at 3 to 3. Berra had hit two and Lindell one. For the Giants, Mize hit two and Gordon one.

★

THEN THEY CALLED the clipper and, as he strode from the dugout, the crowd, now 37,000 strong, sent a resounding ovation reverberating up into the purple sky.

Joe didn't let them down. He hit two fouls and then sent a towering smash into the left field stands to win the contest. For good measure he sent his next drive soaring some 420 feet into left center field.

He hit again later in a runoff for the right handed hitters who had parked one, but this time he didn't get any.

Yet there was a happy lilt to his famed, ground - covering stride as he ran out to center field to take his old position for the first time this year even though he didn't get a hit in four tries during the game

HE HADN'T BELTED a homer in that runoff. But Charley Silvera, the Yankee pitcher, had wilted by the time Joe took his last licks. And when DiMag had gone back to the dugout just before game time, Keller patted his shoulder and laughed:

"Too bad, Joe. Silvera ran out of steam. He just couldn't get it in there to you."

DiMag just grinned, a happy sort of smile, and chuckled He evidently was convinced that he had enough to start the long road back.

Harvard Football Great Dies Sunday

BOSTON—(INS)—Private funeral services were arranged today for Huntington R. "Tack" Hardwick, Harvard university football immortal, who died yesterday at Cuttyhunk island. Hardwick died suddenly while digging clams near his summer home

He was chosen by the late Walter Camp as the all-time all-American end in 1915. Hardwick was the only four gold football man in Harvard history.

Tee Entries May Join In Fast Field

By CHARLEY STINE

At least 22 boys will tee off at 10 a. m. tomorrow at Coolridge golf course in quest of the first annual Richland County Junior championship.

The boys will play two rounds of the nine-hole Coolridge layout with the title being decided by the low medal score. The prize list was incomplete today but merchandise awards will go to at least the top six boys in the meet. A trophy donated by Coolridge is to be the chief award to the winner.

Starting times for the 22 who sent in entries were announced today by county golf association Secretary Bill Mercer. Mercer said that because of the small field, tee entries would be accepted.

Any boy wanting to enter the tournament who has not turned in an entry blank may sign up by registering at the tee at no later than 10 o'clock.

Four entrants from the Shelby Country club will be in the field. They are: Tom Wilkinson, Howard Stacklin, Jack Bowman and Dick Yohn. Two entrants from Possum Run, three from Coolridge, and 13 from Westbrook, round out the field.

TWO FAVORITES

Favorites will be Jim Hager and Larry Inscore, the two top men on the Senior high golf team of last spring. Inscore has been Westbrook caddy champion for two years, having beaten Hager in the finals last year.

Several other boys, however, who play Coolridge regularly may prove darkhorses because of their knowledge of the tricky course.

Starting Time
10 00—Larry Inscore, Ed Percy, Dick Yohn.

Gorman-Rupp 9 Seeks Win Over Wooster Outfit

The Gorman - Rupp softballers will invade Wooster tonight in an attempt to pull their Ohio Major league record above the .500 mark for the first time since the opening game.

Gorman - Rupp won its opener but has since dropped two while winning one and needs a victory against the Wooster Lumbers tonight to put it over the top. The Pumpers over - all record is seven victories and four defeats.

Batting averages released today by manager Nick Weber show Pitcher Stretch Regula to be leading in just about everything in the book. Stretch has won five games and lost two from the pitcher's box while piling up a neat .400 batting average at the dish Bob Regula, last year's number one pitcher, has won one game and lost two

Regatta Begins

HENLEY, Eng. — (UP) — The royal Henley regatta began today with officials predicting new records for Britain's rowing classic if the perfect weather continues over the one mile, 550- yard Thames river course until Saturday's finals

BACK AGAIN—Former ace receiver Mickey Owen, whose five-year suspension for jumping to the Mexican league, was lifted recently, is shown back in Brooklyn Dodger's uniform after he rejoined the team. Owen appeared against the Cleveland Indians in his first start last night and scored the winning run. (International).

Harness Racers Heading For Biggest Ohio Payoff

By FRITZ HOWELL, Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS — Harness racers will hit the jackpot in Ohio this summer, with $1,042,000 in purses offered the trotters and pacers.

It's the biggest payoff in Buckeye history and it may be boosted another $150,000 by fall meetings at Steubenville and Hilliards—both still in the "talking" stage.

A total of 73 county fair meetings, and the state fair program, will pass out $533,600 to the winners. Steubenville paid off about $75,000 at its recent spring session, Troy has $75,000 in purses for its meeting, which ends Saturday, and Toledo, now in the midst of a 44-night meeting which ends July 31, offers $181,000.

Marion opens its 19-session Little Grand Circuit meeting July 4 and runs through July 23, with $75,000 in awards. Stakes will account for $18,000, and over-nighters for the remainder.

A double-header will feature the Independence Day opening at Marion, with afternoon and night sessions, and General Manager Frank M. Foster said he had some of the country's top talent lined up for the fairgrounds raceway meet.

One of the "big ones" is Delaware's Grand Circuit meeting Sept. 19-23, with purses of $102,000 Top attraction is the "Little Brown Jug," the country's three-year-old pacing classic, which will pay off better than $50,000.

That price tag makes the colorful "Jug," scheduled Sept. 22, the highest-pursed race ever held for pacers of any age.

FOURTH PACING

This will be the fourth pacing of the "Jug," which was worth $35,358.65 when Ensign Hanover won the inaugural; $38,200 when Forbes Chief took the second one, and $47,528 58 last year when Knight Dream came home in front in the three-heat classic.

This year the purse soars over $50,000 if there are five or more starters, and that number is certain since the payoff goes to the first five finishers.

A companion piece to the "Jug" on the Delaware program is a $5,000 event for nominees for the pacing classic who turned out to be trotters. Two other $5,000 stakes, one for two-year-old trotters and the other for two-year-old pacers, add luster to the card.

Dodgers Set Tryout Camp At Akron Field

AKRON — (AP) — A baseball tryout camp will be conducted by the Brooklyn Dodgers at Seiberling field today through Thursday. daily workouts are scheduled from 9 a m to 4 p. m.

Lefty Settlemire of Lima, and Cliff Alexander of Hamilton will direct the camp.

Steel Team In Tie For Loop Lead

Martin Steel moved into a tie for first place in the Recreation "slo-ball" league last night by edging the Old Timers, 9-8, while the News-Journal was handing Leedy Electric its first defeat, 16-15.

Leedy had won three straight games but gave the N-J boys eight runs in the first inning yesterday and then had its late rallies fall one run short. Leedy hit six home runs in attempting to make up the difference. Homers were hit by O. Seymour, Kilgore, McBridge, Hutchinson and two by Bob Anthony. John Patrick of the News-Journal also had a four-ply wallop.

Meanwhile, Martin had to go eight innings to win. The Old Timers tied the score with four runs in the top of the seventh, before Martins pushed over the winning tally in the first extra frame.

Phi Sigma Chi blasted the Coffee Shop, 14-5, in the other game on the card. The game was tied at 5-5 going into the final frame.

New Boxing Group Ready For Fight

NEW YORK —(AP)— A new boxing organization came out swinging today with the assertion it was ready and willing to buck Madison Square Garden for the Metropolitan fight fan's dollar.

The ambituous newcomer to the promotional wars is the American Boxing League, Inc., backed by an amusement park director, Jo Wiseman, and David Charnay, one-time head of the dissolved tournament of champions.

Bob Lemon Draws Detroit Assignment

CLEVELAND —(INS)—As far as the Cleveland Indians' pennant hopes are concerned, the next 16 games, all with western clubs, are probably the most important of the season.

After completing a 13-game road trip in the east with nine victories and only four defeats, the Tribe opens a four-game series with the fourth-place Detroit Tigers tonight at Cleveland stadium.

Bob Lemon, the Tribe's leading hurler with seven victories and three defeats, will do the pitching for the Indians against the Tigers' Virgil Trucks. Lemon has twirled only one contest with the Tigers this season and he lost, 3-2, although he gave up only two hits.

Trucks is the only pitcher in the American league who holds at least one victory over each club.

The Tribe last night played the Brooklyn Dodgers in a benefit exhibition game in Brooklyn and lost, 4-3, in the ninth.

A base on balls with the bases loaded and none out in the last inning gave the Dodgers the one run that they needed to cop the victory.

Sam Zoldak loaded the bases on two hits and a walk and then with the count three balls and two strikes on Billy Cox, he threw the fourth ball, forcing in Mickey Owen, who was recently reinstated after jumping to the Mexican league in 1946.

Cleveland scored one run in each the second, fifth and seventh frames, while Brooklyn tallied once in the first, twice in the seventh and one in the ninth.

Larry Doby led Cleveland hitters with two safe blows, including a home run, in two trips to the plate.

Satchel Paige started for the Tribe but was relieved in the sixth by Zoldak.

The game was for the benefit of Brooklyn's sandlot baseball organization. Receipts from the game, which was attended by 31,546 fans, totaled about $45,000.

Office Cafe Lead Not In Any Danger

Three games will be played in the National Softball league tonight but pacesetting Office Cafe is in no danger of being unseated from first place.

The Cafe nine, which boasts a four-and-one record is to meet D. & M. Cigar store at Prospect park. Even a defeat for the Cafemen and a victory for runner-up Westinghouse will leave Office Cafe in no worse than a tie.

Westinghouse, winner of three of five games, is to tangle with 164th Fighter Squadron at Liberty park. 164th is in the basement with one win in five games.

The third league game pits Mansfield Tire again at Lumbermens with fifth place in the league at stake. Tire currently holds the spot with a 2-2 record while Lumbermens has 2-3.

One Girls' league game will also be played. Spudnut Shop is to meet Ohio Sport Center at John Todd field. All games start at 6:15 p. m.

Attendance Dropping Sharply In Major Leagues

Cleveland's Decline Tops Entire List

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

The majors are headed for an attendance decline from last year's record-breaking totals, comparative figures showed today.

With most of the 16 clubs having played nearly half their 77 home games, a check revealed that only six clubs are ahead of last year's figures.

Through games of last night, a total of 8,588,438 fans paid to watch the teams in action, as compared to he 8,965,152 who saw the same number of games in 1948 That is a drop of 376,714.

At this rate, the majors are certain to fall approximately a million behind last year's record figure of 20,943,345

The Cleveland Indians have suffered the biggest drop, having drawn about 145,000 fewer fans than in '48 at a corresponding date. Cincinnati, Detroit, the New York Giants and Philadelphia hils are others which have fallen 100,000 below last year's figures.

The Pittsburgh Pirates show the biggest gain, 180,000 more than last year The Chicago White Sox, Washington Senators, Boston Braves, Brooklyn Dodgers and St Louis Cardinals also are ahead of their '48 figures

The Cardinals drew a night game crowd of 13,178 in the only regular game played in the majors yesterday, but the fans were doomed to disappointment as the Chicago Cubs beat the Redbirds, 6-4. The defeat prevented the Cards from tying the Dodgers for the league lead. Instead, the Redbirds are now a full game behind the Brooks

TOO LITTLE—TOO LATE—Nine years ago the Detroit Lions pro football club received a letter from a 14-year-old grade school pupil in which the boy called himself another Whizzer White The boy wrote that "I'll see you in eight years." The Detroit club looked the boy up but the boy, George Shaw, doesn't play football any more and he weighs only 154 pounds. The Lions invited him to be their guest—in the stands—for their game with the Bears this fall Shaw is shown with Coach Bo McMillen as they talk about his letter (International)

2 Teams Take Third Wins In Softball Loop

Lumbermens and Westinghouse kept up their winning ways in the Girls' softball league yesterday as both racked up its third victory with ease

Westinghouse blasted North Lake park, 28 - 1, to win in a walk by Lumbermens had a little more trouble with Prospect park, winning 9 - 4.

Schaeffer of Westinghouse had a perfect night at bat with six hits in six trips while Norma Blandi was not far behind with five for six.

Ivan Rasputin Booked Here On Saturday

Ivan Rasputin, the Russian Bear, will make his second appearance of the year in the Mansfield wrestling ring Saturday night

The big - bearded gent will go against Zack Hatfield, Tennessee hillbilly, in the finale. Hatfield also sprouts a beard. They will meet over the two - of - three falls route with a one - hour time limit.

Rasputin's last showing here resulted in an argument with Mayor Roy Vaughn. Vaughn objected to Rasputin's alleged "phony" falls from the ring in a bout with Wild Bill Zimovich. Vaughn and Rasputin had "words" at ringside after one of the falls.

The tiff resulted in an agreement between Vaughn and Promoter Clete Kauffman that wrestlers appearing in Mansfield would no longer take the "phony" falls from the ring The rule went into effect to prevent possible injury to women and children in the first rows

Rough Mae Weston and Lillian Ellison collide in the 45 - minute semi - final with Great Mephisto opening the show at 8 30 p m against Jack Vansky

Ed Robinson Seems Cinch For All-Star Team Berth

CHICAGO —(AP)— Eddie Robinson, 29-year-old Washington Senators first baseman, appears a cinch to be in the American league starting lineup for the 16th annual all-star baseball game in Brooklyn, July 12.

Robinson, who played with Cleveland last year and led the league in fielding with a 994 average, holds an advantage of 338,426 votes over his nearest rival, the Tribe's Mickey Vernon Vernon went to Cleveland from the Senators in the swap that included Robinson.

Robinson, who hails from Paris, Tex., has been named on 774,624 ballots in the nationwide poll which started June 10 and ends tomorrow at midnight. Final returns will be announced Saturday.

Unless there is a flood of last minute votes which will alter the pattern of balloting, the following starting lineups apparently will be used

National league —First base, Johnny Mize, New York; second base, Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn; third base, Eddie Kazak, St. Louis; shortstop, Peewee Reese, Brooklyn; catcher, Andy Seminick, Philadelphia; outfielders, Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh, Stan Musial, St Louis, and Willard Marshall. New York

American league—First base, Eddie Robinson, Washington; second base, Cass Michaels, Chicago; third base. Gerge Kell, Detroit; shortstop. Eddie Joost, Philadelphia; catcher, Birdie Tebbets Boston; outfielders. Ted Williams. Boston. Tommy Henrich, New York, and Dom Di Maggio. Boston

The all-star managers, Billy Southworth of the Boston Braves and Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians, will select their own pitching staffs.

The latest tabulation is 2,858,534 votes and a record-breaking three million is expected before the deadline.

Ted Williams is the most popular star with fans giving him 1,084 394 votes Jackie Robinson is next with 1,022,586.

American Net Domination Is Fraying a Bit

LONDON — (AP) — American domination of the world's amateur tennis is beginning to fray around the edges at Wimbledon.

When the men's semifinals are played tomorrow, only one United States representative will be swinging — top-seeded Ted Schroeder of La Cresenta, Calif. — he got by his quarter-final match yesterday only by the skin of his teeth.

Schroeder lost the first two sets to Australian champion Frank Sedgman, then prevailed, 3-6, 6-8, 6-3, 6-2, 9-7.

But five others of the 10 top ranking Americans have been beaten. With Schroeder in the semifinals will be Eric Sturgress of South Africa, whom Ted is favored to beat; Jaroslav Drobny of Czechoslovakia, and John Bromwich of Australia.

Bromwich drove defending champion Bob Falkenburg of Los Angeles out of the tournament yesterday, also in five sets.

Australia's Geoff Brown ousted American singles king Richard (Pancho) Gonzales of Los Angeles in the early rounds and the rout has continued. Other American stars eliminated early were Gardnar Mulloy and Earl Cochell.

'Admits' Irish Will Lose Two

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Coach Frank Leahy predicts that Jim Martin, who has played end at Notre Dame for the past two seasons, will become another great left tackle for the Irish.

Leahy, a Cleveland visitor last night, called Martin "an all-round football player who can be moved around and still do a great job."

The Notre Dame grid chief also made his usual forecast for the team's coming season:

"Seriously, we'll lose two games for sure. Maybe it will be three or four."

Track Specialists Go In Decathlon

TULARE, Cal., —(UP) The country's greatest all-around track and field specialists go into action here tonight in quest of the most hard-to-get crown in sports—the National Decathlon Championship.

Defending champion Bob Mathias of Kiski Prep, now a "veteran" of 18 years of age, is favored to repeat his performances of last year when he won not only the U. S. title, but also captured the Olympic crown in London.

Decides Today

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Dr. James Dickson was expected to decide today whether an operation is necessary for Luke Easter, slugging first baseman for the San Diego Padres of the Pacific coast league.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Launch New Lake Boat

Ship Biggest On Fresh Water

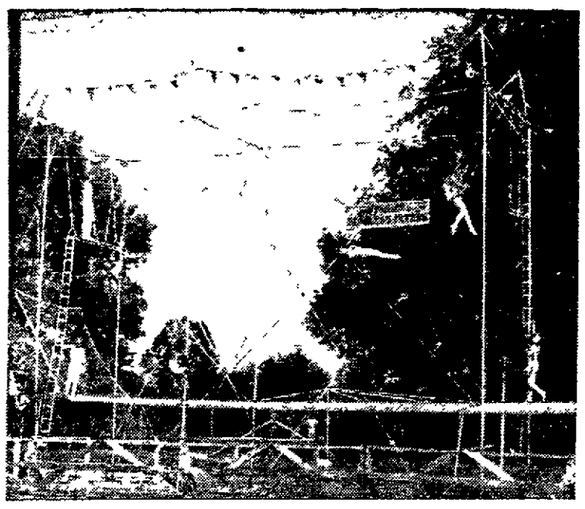
LORAIN — (UP) — The largest and fastest fresh water ship ever built was launched here today.

The new queen of the lakes is the Wilfred Skyes, a 678-foot ore carrier named for the former president of the Inland Steel company, which owns the vessel.

Built at a cost estimated at more than $5,000,000, the new queen is expected to be ready for service at the beginning of the 1950 lake shipping season.

In land terms, the Sykes will have a speed of 16.5 miles per hour, permitting her to make a total of 44 round trips to the ore docks each season compared with the 34 trips now made by the fastest ships on the lakes

There are a lot of startling statistics about the new ship. The streamlined giant will carry 20,000 long tons at intermediate draft, and 21,000 long tons at summer draft.



AERIAL PERFORMERS—Bob Fisher and His Fearless Fliers, above, are a featured attraction with the Royal Crown Shows this week at the Blue Goose showgrounds. They perform nightly at 10 o'clock and will present matinee and evening performances Saturday. The act is free The show, one of the largest of the carnivals, will offer fireworks display Saturday night Other attractions at the show are Leona, the original alligator girl, the King Cotton Club with 28 performers, and the Vanities of 1949 with Desiro and her 12 chorus girls

New Church Incorporated

Incorporation papers for the Holy Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church have been filed with the secretary of state by Carl A. Wolfarth, Lowell B Hamilton and Donald D Cram, members of the church council, it was announced today.

Purpose of the incorporation was to prepare the way for the church's new building project. The church plans to begin work on its new building at Lexington avenue and Cook road early this fall.

Lester R. Wendland acted as agent in the incorporation, and papers were filed by John F. Kramer, Mansfield attorney.

The Moabites were an ancient Semitic people related to the Hebrews.

Resurfacing of Shelby Public Park Tennis Courts Looms

Mayor Asks Cost Survey For Repairs

Seeks To Revive Interest In Sport

By JOHN E. PATRICK
(N.-J. Staff Correspondent)

SHELBY, June 28—Mayor William Morris today started investigation regarding the cost involved in hard surfacing the Shelby public tennis courts at Seltzer park.

The two tennis courts involved have been in such a sad state of repair that interest in tennis has practically died out in the city.

Morris said this morning he was for the project and if the city was financially able the courts would be hard surfaced

An estimate received today from a Mansfield paving company listed a figure of approximately $1 75 square yard. Mayor Morris said that the measurements of the playing area would be taken today to determine the approximate total cost.

The mayor has the authority to approve any project up to $500.00, however, if the amount exceeds this amount, resolution will have to be passed by city council authorizing the mayor to advertise for bids.

Chester Monn, director of finance, stated today the city had appropriations set aside for work of this nature.

The attitude of the mayor will be approved by the great number of tennis enthusiasts who have been struggling with the deteriorated tennis courts.

The city has some of the finest tennis players in the area, who have not participated in the game since before the war due to the poor conditions of the courts.

A spokesman for the groups who contacted Mayor Morris stated this move will not only recreate interest in tennis, but it will help combat juvenile delinquency. "As long as the children are kept occupied they will keep out of trouble," he said

Sewer Project Up To Galion Council

GALION — At an adjourned meeting of council tonight, ways and means of financing the north end sewer construction will be considered

Two bids for the job were opened at 1 p. m. yesterday, by Service Director K. A. Poister and Mayor H. H. Hartmann, and recorded by Miss Doris Sickmiller, clerk

A bid of $10,136.36 was received from the Howard Thayer Contracting company of Galion, R. D. 1, and another bid of $15,938.50 from the Capitol Construction company of Columbus.

The bid by the Columbus company was automatically rejected because it was over the estimate of $11,118.

Plane Crash Leaves Former Ashland Physician 'Rocky'

ASHLAND A former Ashland physician, Dr. John Alan Riebel, was resting today at the Veterans' hospital at Lexington, Ky., but he is a "little rocky" from a plane crash Saturday.

Dr. Frank A. Riebel said he had received word at his Columbus office that his brother was preparing to return to work despite a badly sprained knee and a wound in his head that required two stitches to close.

He said his brother told him he believed he struck his head on the propellor of the small plane, which he piloted alone when he crashed through the windshield in a crash at New Hope, O, near Georgetown.

The doctor said only the motor of the plane will be salvaged, because the body of the plane was to badly smashed.

Ohio Senate on Spot, Tackles Hot Housing Measure Today

House Kills Ferguson Act 'Easer'

State Seeking Federal Funds

COLUMBUS — (UP) — The Ohio Senate — put on the spot by lower House rejection of a conciliation service for public employe disputes — today votes on the equally hot subject of public housing.

Two bills designed to put the state back on the gravy train of federal - aid housing projects are expected to be approved by the Senate. Gov. Frank J. Lausche has demanded them as essential to urban redevelopment.

The measures would exempt permanent public housing projects from taxation but permit payment of a percentage of shelter rent in lieu of taxes. Ohio has lost about $330,000 a year in federal aid money since the state supreme court in 1943 ruled that such property was not tax exempt.

Passage of the measures would permit a number of Ohio cities to issue bonds and take over housing properties from the federal government. The federal housing officials gained control of the projects after the state supreme court ruling.

Both bills have been approved by the House and supported by Governor Lausche. Lausche has made it clear that he will not sign the urban redevelopment bill previously passed by the legislature unless the public housing measures are approved.

The Senate, meanwhile, was put on the spot by the refusal of the lower House last night to accept a watered-down form of conciliation and arbitration bill to solve public employe disputes over working conditions.

By a vote of 56 to 62 the House of Representatives killed a bill which would have softened the Ferguson act banning strikes by government workers and school teachers. The House earlier, on Feb. 8, voted outright repeal of the GOP-sponsored Ferguson act.

Fire Trucks Flee As Flames Strike

YOUNGSTOWN — (INS) — Fire officials today sought the origin of a blaze which caused $10,000 damage to a building in nearby Canfield housing the fire department, the village office and a food market.

The department's two fire trucks were saved, however when two Wisconsin truck drivers broke into the garage and drove them out of the flaming structure.

12 Richland Youths Back From Boys' State Sessions

Twelve Richland county boys are back home today after the closing session of the Buckeye Boys' State at Ohio Wesleyan university in Delaware.

The boys who attended are: Charles Nail 730 Woodhill road; Robert O. Ward, 569 Heineman boulevard; Robert H. Rice, 461 Lexington avenue; Charles G. Young, 659 Manchester road; and James N. Geiger, 458 Parkview street; James P. Cook, 46 Rowland avenue; Buell Thomas Adams, St. Peter's Catholic school; Donald E. Boylan, Lexington; Irving Brissell, Springfield township; Russell E. Glen, Madison township; Clarence Harris, Lucas; and Norman L. Hughes, Madison township.

Geiger was the only Mansfielder to be elected to office. He held the post of state auditor, the highest post ever won by a Mansfield boy.

Nail provided quite a bit of excitement when he won $2,500 damages in a libel action against the Hetuck, Boys' State newspaper. Nail, an early strong contender for the gubernatorial nomination on the Federalist ticket, protested the paper's referring to him as a "dollar-a-year-man."

The paper also said something to the effect that you "couldn't hit a nail if it didn't have a head."

'Boulevards' Popular As Home Site

Former Village Is City's Newest Section

South Boulevards, a former subdivision that became a village before being annexed by Mansfield, is regarded by out-of-town realtors and visitors as one of the "nicest" Ohio communities in the middle-priced field. Realtor J. H. Mayberry associated with the project, said he has often heard that comment.

The project was begun in 1924 with the purchase of the Reid Carpenter farm. It was laid out in 444 lots, later replatted, making 475 lots. Sale of lots began in the fall of 1924.

There are nearly 300 houses there now, according to Harry Scoles, who was the last clerk for the village. He said that by the time the community became an incorporated village in May, 1939, there were 101 houses up.

The section was incorporated in order to put in a sewer system. The village purchased water from the city of Mansfield. It has its own fire truck and also a police marshall.

A town hall was built. The men, who started the project, put in a six-acre park in the village. Most of the houses contain six or seven rooms and there are a number of bungalows.

ANNEXED BY CITY

The village had its own ash and garbage collection and its own street repair department, said Harry E. Colbow, the last mayor. He worked himself out of a job in urging annexation of the village to the city. The village was annexed in September, 1948.

In the twenties, Mayberry said the lots "went like hot cakes." During the depression years things slowed up. But during the war and after, things picked up again. The last lot was sold in May, 1947.

Those associated in the project put in streets, water, and gas lines and electric lines.

Rankin Preparing Bonus Bill

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Having successfully rammed through the house a $65,000,000,000 veterans pensions bill, Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) is now getting ready a bonus bill that may cost almost that much.

He won't say when he will present it to the House veterans committee, of which he is chairman, but he indicated he may seek action this session.

Servicemen would get $3 for each day of military life, $4 for those spent overseas, with a maximum payment of $5,000. The bill's cost has been estimated all the way from $14,000,000,000 to $60,000,000,000.

Some members of the committee said privately there will be no more major veterans benefits approved this session. "In view of the national economy," said one, it's time to stop."

But Rankin wants the bonus money — "adjust compensation" — to take care of almost all G. I. benefits.

He has held up legislation to extend "52-20" G. I. jobless pay (which expires July 25), terming such payments "rocking-chair money."

The bonus bill, Rankin said, "would deduct from the adjusted compensation all this sit-down money, and on-job training and college benefits.

Suburb Needs Traffic Lights

A LETTER from an East Mansfield resident tells of the narrow escape of a small boy a few days ago when a speeding auto hit a jeep, and also another car, before careening across the road and onto the sidewalk, smashing the boy's bicycle, from which he had jumped just in time to avoid injury.

"We have been trying to get some traffic lights out here," the writer of the letter says, "but can get no cooperation from the city."

Those familiar with the highway through East Mansfield will recognize the need for at least two traffic lights in that area, where excessive speed is common—but there is a difficulty that may not be generally understood.

East Mansfield is outside the Mansfield city limits and city authority therefore does not extend to installation of traffic lights in that area.

This being the case, where does responsibility rest for placing traffic lights in built-up sections outside of municipalities? The township or county would seem to be the logical agencies, but it appears that the state highway department must be looked to for action along this line.

In the East Mansfield instance, however, it might be well from residents of that adjoining suburb to revive the subject of becoming a part of the Mansfield corporation . . . a project that has been discussed from time to time for many years, but without action.

Prepare For That Vacation Trip

NOW THAT the year's most popular vacation time is here, it is interesting to note that, according to Dr. Robert Tyson in the July issue of Journal of Living, "most folks just don't know how to take a vacation," and therefore don't really enjoy their "two weeks with pay."

The trouble seems to be a lack of preparation, which Dr. Tyson suggests should start fully two weeks before you actually leave on the vacation trip.

"Begin by clearing the decks," he says. "Make a note of all bills to be paid, services to be stopped, repairs to be made, and provide a definite time to take care of them before your vacation begins—this leaves your mind free of minor irritations that can spoil any holiday."

There are also such matters as listing all the clothes and equipment needed, so that these will be ready in advance instead of necessitating last-minute scurrying.

"Make up your mind," Dr. Tyson advises, "that your vacation will cost a certain amount of money and then forget about it. After a year of careful budgeting and cautious shopping, not having money troubles is a vacation in itself. It is better to have ten carefree, extravagant days than two full weeks of penny-pinching and diligent purse-watching."

As a final suggestion he urges that while on a vacation you do what you like, as, for instance: "If you'd rather sit in an easy chair and read than go boating, fishing, hiking or swimming, then sit!"

Changes In German Libraries

GERMAN libraries, at least, are being de-nazified. Dr. Werner Mevissen, head of the Bremen library, who is now visiting the United States, reports that in his institution 40 to 50 per cent of the books for young people have been junked because of their glorification of nazism.

Any kind of censorship of books or ideas is to be deplored. But this is a sort of uncensoring the censored. The nazis threw out from schools and libraries as much that was really good in the way of literature, science, philosophy as they knew how. They replaced the fine old books, the useful new ideas, with cheap glorification of the nazi regime.

The stuff they threw in for the mind to feed on was as poor in nourishment as the food for bodies to which their nationals were finally reduced.

What the present people in authority over libraries and other institutions of learning are doing is merely throwing out this artificial junk and replacing it as far as they can with books of varied character and good quality such as were there before.

'Memory Machine' Latest Claim

THERE really is a mechanical brain, or at least a mechanical memory. It is a machine, disclosed by government researchers, which can store photographs of pages of books, maps, records, just about anything, with a code index which enables the machine to select and reproduce, at a moment's notice, all the pictures it has pertaining to a given subject.

This machine seems to offer certain advantages over even the "walking encyclopedia", the person with a prodigious memory. Besides which, persons with prodigious memories are not easy to find. If the machine age keeps on developing, soon there may be machines to do not only all of man's physical labors but his mental labors as well.

If men ever get to depending on machines to do their thinking for them, however, that will be the end of the advancement of the mechanical age. So far there is no reason to believe that machines will ever be quite smart enough to invent other machines to do their work for them. That piece of indolent genius seems to be reserved to man, and is what has made the machine age happen.

Noting that liquor control headquarters in Kansas will be upstairs over a bank, Bill Vaughan in the Kansas City Star, quips: "If any sample bottles are broken it may run into money."

In Pakistan, a returned traveler reports with astonishment, it is the custom for a married man to turn over all his earnings to his wife—what's so astonishing about that.

Claude Callan has noticed: "It's fairly easy to borrow a lot of money, but when you get to the point where you need $5 nobody wants to lend it to you."

What Some Other People Are Saying

WASHINGTON REPORT

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

IN THESE weekly columns I shall try to tell the people of Ohio in the fairest possible way some of the developments in Washington. I shall try to report just what goes on in Congress and to clarify the issues on controversial subjects.

From time to time I shall also set forth my own philosophy of government and the beliefs which lead me to vote as I do, and to feel an intense indignation when certain other policies are advocated.

What happens in Washington is of vital concern to every resident of Ohio. A fully-informed citizenry is the greatest safeguard we have for the future of our country.

* * *

CONGRESS has now been in session almost six months. In the Senate we have passed the public housing and slum clearance bill and the bill for federal aid to education which goes, for the most part, to the poorer states of the Southeast. I was one of the authors of both these measures. They were both passed by the Senate of the 80th Congress and I have felt that both of them are necessary to give something like equality of opportunity to families, and particularly to children, who do not have the income to provide a minimum decent living.

The Senate has also passed a bill giving federal aid to states to enable them to make universal the program of examining all children in school once a year and providing standard treatment for defects found.

The broader health program is being studied by the two congressional committees, but because of the wide difference between President Truman's national compulsory medical care plan, and the voluntary state-aid plans, the administration apparently plans to put off until next year any basic action on health. We may, however, be able to provide some state aid for the extension of local public health units and some aid to personnel.

* * *

THE Spence bill gives the President power to fix prices, fix wages, ration commodities and put the government into business has almost been forgotten by the Democratic leaders themselves.

The farm plan proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan has only just been presented in bill form and seems to have the opposition of the leading farm organizations.

The plan to socialize and nationalize medicine has been postponed until 1950. Shortly after the session started, the labor committees of both Houses by a strict party vote reported out the bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley law without even permitting the minority members of Congress to offer amendments.

The bill was defeated and sent back to the House labor committee. The administration is still trying to pass its bill in the Senate. The civil rights program has gotten nowhere.

In short, it appears that very little progress has been made on the enactment of the Truman program, except on the Republicans. This, in spite of the fact that the President's party controls Congress with a majority of 12 votes in the Senate and 92 in the House of Representatives. Of course a large number of Democrats differ from President Truman on his more radical proposals.

* * *

IN FUTURE weeks I hope to discuss in detail the status of important issues like labor, social security and relief, the Atlantic Pact, agriculture, aid to Europe, civil rights, housing, education, expenditures and taxes and many others.

I am always happy to hear the opinions of the readers of this newspaper on any of the matters before Congress or any other matter affecting the welfare of Ohio. You can write me in care of the Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C.

Nelson Doubleday always maintained that guests at a literary cocktail party never listened to what anybody else was saying. To prove his point he shook hands with Elizabeth Janeway at a gathering in her house and said, "I'm sorry I'm late, but to took me longer to strangle my aunt than I expected." "Yes, indeed," beamed Miss Janeway. "I'm so happy you have come."

Farmer's Diary

Those Wild Foragers

By CALVIN A. BYERS

GOING to pick the cherries on the high old trees of the long abandoned highland forty, the boys surprised a venerable woodchuck in the act of raiding the ripest portion of the fruit.

His burrow was in the ruins of the abandoned basement of the old house, and the overhanging shade with its clusters of dark, ripe cherries was a part of his natural habitat.

He would sit in a safe crotch and with both forepaws draw loaded branches to his mouth. Or he'd use both claws to strip off what fruit he could reach, and eat from the hollow of his "hands."

He scuttled away, when the boys approached, but shreds of fur about nearly every crotch made it clear that climbing was a part of his regular day's work, and cherries a part of his accustomed diet.

His descent was backwards, like that of a timid cat. And he dropped the last few feet and scurried into his burrow hastily.

* * *

CONSIDER the woodchuck's manner of life. He reaps where he does not sow, living off the grain of the nearest fields, the wild berries and nuts in season.

Once I saw a big woodchuck out on the limb of a wide-spreading oak, throwing acorns down.

Later he would gather and eat them, store some away, thus making the best summer's work of that fine old tree a part of his own vitality.

His burrow is air-conditioned—cool in summer, warm in winter. Here he naps, safe from danger—or sleeps through the coldest weather safely taken care of by his own excess fat. Thus he knows only abundance, and shares his burrow with many other wild things who use his premises as a haven.

* * *

THERE was a persimmon tree in my grandfather's garden, and one of the comical sights I first saw, as an inquisitive boy, was a "possum" swinging by its tail, back and forth, until it could reach the dangling fruits. Other smaller possums, on the ground beneath the tree, devoured the fallen ripe persimmons.

Wheever has eaten fully ripe persimmons, tearing off the leathery outer skin to sample the sticky, amber richness of the pulp, will understand why a possum will swing as wide and far as his prehensile tail can manage, to reach these wild delicacies and furnish them to his growing family.

A-Bomber Preserved.

The airplane that launched the atomic age will not be scrapped. The "Enola Gay" — American bomber which carried the first atomic bomb to Hiroshima—will be preserved in the National Air museum.

Generations hence, when Americans of the future gaze at this plane and recall its role in initiating atomic warfare, what will be their reaction? Will they bless the "Enola Gay" for introducing an atomic age that brought peace and happiness and prosperity to mankind? Or will they curse it for the devastation it may have spawned?

The answer depends upon us, here and now, and the use we make of the atom. Will our descendants bless or curse us?—Akron Beacon Journal.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Question Advisability of Sending Arms

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The state department's Dr. Philip Jessup, trailing homeward after the failure of the Big Four conference in Paris, was reflecting on the high hopes which preceded that conference.

Jessup had been in on the discussions with Gromyko before the conference, and he remembered May 3 particularly. That was the day when the final Russian note was delivered to him in New York, the day when all the world wondered what was in that note. Would the Russians say yes or no?

The note reached Jessup's office, No. 2 Park Avenue, in the morning, and he knew it was the fatal document that would tell whether the blockade of Berlin was to be lifted. He knew it was the climax of his weeks of secret negotiation and hidden meetings with Malik and Gromyko.

But nobody in his office could read Russian. . .Frantic search for a translator. . .An hour passed. . .Jessup hid the secret document under his desk blotter. . .Another hour passed. . . Headlines in the press: "No reply from Moscow."

Finally, after three hours — a translator. Jessup hurried to his desk, took the fatal document from under the blotter, and said: "Here, translate this quickly. I'm tired of acting like a character in a dime novel!"

Late Military Recommendation.

THE joint chiefs of staff held one of their most significant meetings last week with Secretary of Defense Louis A. Johnson.

Johnson was about to testify before the Senate armed services committee and, before he did so, the heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force told him that they seriously questioned the advisability of sending large amounts of arms to Europe under the North Atlantic Pact.

The joint chiefs of staff were cautious in making their statement, pointed out that they were making no recommendation, that the final decision was up to the state department.

Nevertheless, from a military viewpoint they said they could not justify the expense of arming 25 European divisions. They also expressed doubt as to what would become of these arms in the hands of western European armies, if Russia invaded.

Note 1 — Private comment of senators who heard about the joint chiefs of staff recommendation was: "Why tell us so late? Without arms the North Atlantic Pact becomes an empty shell."

Note 2 — While details weren't discussed at the above meeting, it's understood that the nub of the problem is tanks. The U. S. Army could send rifles, machine guns, some artillery with no loss. But it has no tanks to spare. European military, especially the French, point out that a modern army without tanks is like an army with pitchforks. It couldn't last a week against the Red army's Stalin tanks — considered the most powerful in the world. Russia has eight tank divisions between the Vistula and Oder rivers alone.

Note 3— The joint chiefs of staff include Army Chief Gen. Omar Bradley, Navy Chief Adm. Louis Denfeld, and Air Chief Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg.

Blind Joan of Arc.

"THERE will be no questions." said Chairman Percy Priest of Tennessee when pretty, 28-year-old Mildred Wiesenfeld of New York finished testimony last week before a congressional subcommittee.

"You have made one of the finest and best-documented presentations I have ever heard," said the congressman. "No questions are necessary."

The witness could not see the congressmen. She was blind. She had come to urge government funds for research into diseases causing blindness, which is increasing every year, with little being done to find out why. Every year 20,000 are stricken with polio, whereas 30,000 lose their vision.

Miss Wiesenfeld's story began three years ago when she founded the national council to combat blindness with a capital of eight dollars and no office. Now she is the "Joan of Arc" of the blind and near-blind people all over the country.

Among the things she told the congressmen: "There are 260,000 blind in this country. . .Relief and welfare for them costs the government $30,000,000 in a single year. Yet only $400,000 is spent annually for research into the reasons for blindness. In most cases of fading vision, the doctors must sit helplessly by doing nothing.

"But I have never lost faith in the heart of America," concluded Miss Wiesenfeld. "It is too late to help me, but there's still time to save the sight of thousands of Americans who are gradually going blind, many without knowing it."

Viewing the National Scene

As It Looks In Illinois

By THOMAS L. STOKES

CHICAGO— Another Democratic governor who has been projected into the spotlight of national party politics, with potentialities as a candidate for a place on the 1952 national ticket, is Adlai S. Stevenson of this state.

This is because of his rich and varied experience in national and international affairs, because he is chief executive of this great midwest industrial agricultural common wealth, a key state politically, which is always a powerful factor at national party nominating conventions and in national elections.

His victory was somewhat of a surprise to outsiders in the election of surprises last November, but he attracted immediate national attention because he, like Senator Paul Douglas, ran far ahead of President Truman.

Only toward the end of the tireless campaign which the two men carried on for months did it become evident within the state that they had stirred up a veritable revolution in Illinois. Their twin victory was a refreshing triumph for popular government.

Like other Democratic governors who were swept into office last November, Governor Stevenson has had much trouble with his legislature, but he is learning practical politics fast—if the hard way.

He is coming out of his ordeal somewhat better, for example, than Governor Chester Bowles in Connecticut and the more youthful Mennen Williams in neighboring Michigan, both of whom, like Governor Stevenson, are having their first experience in state government after previous experience in the field of national government.

* * *

Successes and Failures.

LIKE Governor Bowles, nationally known formerly as OPA administrator, Governor Stevenson was perplexed at the outset by the inefficiencies, slow motion, and corruption that he found existing at the state level.

This is reflected in a speech he made at the recent governors' conference at Colorado Springs, where he was an outstanding figure. He lined up against "state righters" and for a proper division of federal and state functions and aims.

And, in urging that states must improve their inefficiency and methods, said, "I don't hesitate to say that public administration at every level of government, could be vastly improved."

Such improvement he has tried to achieve in his state. He has had some success in the field of administrative reform— in improving civil service; increasing salaries of state employes; integrating state welfare agencies to reduce duplication and overlapping and in moving to take the state police out of politics and opening the way for a merit system.

In the field of social reform, he is expecting in the end to get considerable increases for education in the budget. His budget was criticized as being too ambitious and was the subject of much controversy. Increases were in the field of social services, while the budget made economies in other directions.

He lost out in an attempt to stablish a state FEPC, Fair Employment Practices Commission, and likewise failed by four votes in the house of representatives to get a much needed revision of the state constitution. He has a Democratic House and a Republican Senate.

Governor Stevenson has a complicating factor found in some other large states — a powerful city with a political organization which also is influential in state politics and in the legislature.

He and Martin H. Kennelley, the businessman "reform" mayor of Chicago, ran into differences over allocation of state funds to cities, the mayor seeking more for Chicago than was appointed in the governor's budget. This was compromised by permitting Chicago to levy additional city license taxes.

A conflict of interest between governor and mayor undoubtedly will be a continuing factor in Governor Stevenson's regime. Since the mayor, too, is a Democrat, this affords competition within the party in Illinois between two men powerful politically.

The Nation Today

Looking At the Record

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — It's been almost seven months since this Congress — the 81st — started work. Except for rent control, it hasn't passed one major item of President Truman's campaign promises.

This is getting to sound like a phonograph record. Every month those watching the show here can pull another 30 days off the calendar and say: "Nothing much done yet."

It's been a dull session, indeed, to anyone looking down at it from the galleries, or in the committee hearings, the jaw-jaw-jawing has been endless, the results meager.

Before it quits for 1949, Congress probably will pass a couple of major items. It isn't likely to do more than that.

Then when it returns next January for the second half of its two-year term this 81st Congress, controlled by the Democrats, will get another crack at producing before the 1950 elections.

Perhaps nothing shows better what has been happening—or, rather, what hasn't been happening — than all the tall talk about cutting down on government spending.

Congressmen and senators have outdone one another with their stern statements that Congress would reduce government expenditures and . . . but just go back a bit:

Last January Mr. Truman turned his budget over to Congress. The budget is his experts' estimate of what it will cost to run the government another year.

At once Rep. John Taber, New York Republican who preaches economy, got a look at the budget and said: "We'll have to go over it and try to civilize it."

That started a regular economy chorus. Congress has the power to cut the budget since it's Congress which votes the money for running the government.

* * *

Talk About Economy.

ALL THAT started in January. Here it is, late June, and no real cuts have been made yet. Now a majority of senators are talking of having both Houses simply pass a measure telling Mr. Truman to do the cutting.

If this goes through, it will be a very frank confession that Congress has failed, or doesn't know how, to carry out one of its most important jobs: deciding what the government should spend.

As to major items:

A public housing bill may go through. The Senate has approved it, the House is considering it now.

It's not so sure that a new labor law will be passed to replace the Taft-Hartley Act. Congress has been talking about this since January. The Senate is debating it now, will pretty surely pass some kind of labor bill.

But unless the House also acts before it quits for 1949, there'll be no new labor law and T-H will stand. It's not at all certain the House will act on it. Yet, getting rid of T-H was one of the Democrats' biggest promises.

The Senate pretty surely will approve the Atlantic Pact. This doesn't need House aproval since the pact, being in the form of a treaty, is a job for the Senate only.

But—beyond the pact, housing and labor—it's hard to see what important legislation this Congress will have time for before it goes home for the year.

CHILDREN'S HOME GROUP ENTERTAINS AUXILIARY

American Legion Members Given Program of Music and Readings at Monday Evening Meeting

FIFTEEN BOYS AND GIRLS from the Richland County Children's Home entertained members of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday evening at the Legion Home. The group presented many songs and humorous readings.

Seventy-five of the auxiliary were in attendance for the program and routine business session. Mrs. Don Leuthner presided for the meeting.

Mrs. Ina Hegnauer, child welfare chairman, reported paying rent and furnishing clothing for children of veterans' families. Mrs. Eugene Flory, rehabilitation chairman, told of a recent visit to Crile hospital and of buying groceries and paying rent for two families of disabled veterans.

Mrs. Jean Fuller, membership chairman, announced that there were 24 new members The auxiliary voted to change the by-laws.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Fuller and Miss Josephine Kiehl. The next regular meeting will be held July 25.

Fun Group Organized

Members of the auxiliary to Alfred R. Harrington Post 3494 VFW, met to form a Coothette club recently, at the home of Mrs. Robert G. Baehr, 399 Taylor road.

The following officers were elected: Chief Gray Back (president) Mrs. Baehr, Lady Louse (senior vice president) Mrs. Forrest Dill; Pious Louse (chaplain) Mrs. Margaret Schill; Sheckel Keeper (treasurer) Mrs. Mary Schettler; Crummy Chaser (conductress) Mrs. Fred Grasser; Louse Hunter (guard) Mrs. Bernard Lux; Scratcher (secretary) Mrs. Alex Floro; Ink Slinging Louse (historian) Mrs. Don McKim, Three Tight Wads, (trustees) Mrs. Virgil Hageman, Mrs. J E. Augustyne and Mrs. Edward Russell; and Ivory Louse (pianist) Mrs. John Schneider.

The group met later in Memorial Hall with Mrs. Deesey Baker, grand organizer; Mrs. Iris Crowley, Chief Gray Back; and Mrs. Dema Niedenfuhr, Pious Louse, all of Marion. At this time application for the charter was sent to national headquarters in Sacramento. Calif.

Three more officers were elected, Wrestling Louse (initiation captain) Mrs. Harvey Burghard; and his assistants, Mrs. Austin White and Mrs. John E. Steele. It was voted to call the club "Petite Diables."

On June 26 the club met with members from Shelby and Marion. A picnic supper was served for guests and members' husbands. The club will be the fun organization of the VFW auxiliary. It will also do hospital work for veterans.

Garden Study Club Meets at Lisle Home

Mrs. Clarence Lisle, 238 Blymyer avenue, was hostess recently to members of the Garden Study club and one guest, Mrs. Robert Peele. Roses decorated the tables at which the one o'clock salad luncheon was served.

The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. R R. Martin. A report on the magazine, "Garden Greetings", was given by Mrs. L. D. Bowers. Mrs. E. L. Zehrbach reported on the national magazine.

A paper on roses was given by Mrs. W. R. Burkhart. She said, "Tea roses were originated in China. The oldest hybrid tea rose was originated in 1867 in France. The name of the rose is the La France."

Members of the club displayed different specimens of roses for the general discussion which followed.

The next session will be on July 29 at the home of Mrs. John Cookman, R. D 2.

MRS. RICHARD E. DURTSCHI

Smith-Durtschi Nuptials Solemnized On Sunday

CRESTLINE—In a lovely formal wedding ceremony yesterday, Miss Betty Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith, North Henry street, became the bride of Richard Edwin Durtschi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Durtschi of Galion.

Vows were repeated before the altar of the Evangelical and Reformed church in Crestline. The Rev. W. L. Margard officiated. The custom of open church was observed. The altar was decorated with palms and ferns forming a background for the two large beauty baskets of Sno-Princess gladiolus and huckleberry. A large cluster of the same flowers and foliage was used in the center of the chancel with two seven-branch candelabra completing the setting.

Nuptial music was presented by organist, Theodore Rehl, of Marion, formerly of Galion, and soloist Paul Albert Furry, cousin of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a lovely Puritan type gown of skinner's bridal satin in a light ivory shade. The front of the bodice was fashioned with a front panel of imported Venice lace, extending into the back in a deep yoke.

Deep cuffs of lace finished the very tight long sleeves. Her dress buttoned down the back to a long torso and was finished with a bustle. Her circular skirt was styled with two deeply stitched tucks which extended over her hips, giving a bouffant effect. Her long train fell into deep folds and ended in circular scallops.

Her headpiece, also in a Puritan style, was made of the same lace which trimmed her gown, holding the fingertip veil of French silk illusion. The bride wore the diamond necklace of the bridegroom's paternal grandmother. She carried the traditional lace handkerchief of Alpha Pi Sigma sorority.

The bridal bouquet was composed of gardenias and stephanotis, centered with a white Folcana orchid This was later removed and used as a going-away corsage.

The maid of honor was Miss JoAnn Holcker, a close friend of the bride. She was attired in a gown of light yellow starched marquisette. It was fashioned with slightly off-the-shoulder neckline, with two ruffles forming a bertha. The skirt was in tiers of three ruffles.

The bridesmaids were Miss Joyce Durtschi, of Galion, the bridegroom's sister and Mrs. A. J. Smith of Columbus, the bride's sister-in-law. They were attired in gowns similar to that of the maid-of-honor, in Nile green. All three attendants wore large picture hats of matching lace and marquisette, trimmed with flowers. They all carried small baskets of hairbraid filled with miniature June garden flowers including daisies, centuria, gypsophelia, delphinium blossoms and roses.

Kenneth Scott, of Mansfield, the bridegroom's cousin, served as best man. Albert J. Smith, of Columbus, the bride's brother, and Franklin King, of Galion, the bridegroom's cousin, escorted guests to their pews.

A reception for 200 was held in the church parlors, immediately following the ceremony. A four tiered wedding cake was used as a centerpiece. Two decorated heart-shaped cakes were placed on either side of the bridal table. Beauty baskets were also placed on the ends of the table. Summer flowers completed the decorations, throughout the room.

For her wedding trip to Washington, D. C, and through the east, the bride wore a yellow summer suit with a Panama hat and brown and white accessories. She wore the Folcana orchid from her bouquet. They will be at home at 2280 Astor avenue. in Columbus.

The bride is a graduate of Crestline high school. She attended senior at Capital university in Athens and is a member of Alpha Pi Sigma sorority. The bridegroom is a graduate of Galion high school, and is now a senior at Capital university in Columbus. He is a Navy veteran of World War II. The bride has been employed as a secretary to Leslie K. Wagner, attorney-at-law, in Mansfield.

Mansfield Delegates Attend National Meeting of Sorority

Miss Dorothy Smith, Mrs. D. A. McCullough, Miss Helen Bunn and Mrs. D. A. Tucker, accompanied by Mr. Tucker and Mr. McCullough, left Saturday for Breezy Point Lodge, on Big Pelican Lake in Minnesota, to attend the national convention of Delta Theta Tau sorority. The sessions continue through Thursday. Delegates and members from 165 chapters of the sorority will attend.

A special train left Chicago Saturday arriving in St. Paul Sunday. There the delegates from the western and southern states will join members from the middle west and east, and all will reach Pequot Lakes together. Some members will go by private automobiles. Beginning Monday morning business sessions and attractive social events will take place for four days.

Delta Theta Tau Sorority is the largest non-academic organization of its kind in the United States. It was organized in 1903 at Muncie, Ind., and has as its primary purpose the advancement of philanthropy. National membership now numbers 11,500. The latest chapter installed was at Memphis, Tenn. Mary Pickford is an honorary member.

For more than 20 years Delta Theta Tau members have maintained a mountain school in Brinkley, Ky. On an 84 acre tract of a a mountain school in Brinkley, beautifully wooded hillside, they built one of the finest buildings in rural Kentucky and a home for the teachers. The sorority pays teachers' salaries, purchases books and equipment, pays taxes on the building and grounds, and clothes the children.

A certificate of achievement by the United States Navy in recognition of meritorious and outstanding services rendered to the Medical Department of the Navy during World War II has been awarded Delta Theta Tau. The sorority established a Brace Shop at Mare Island.

This past year the sorority launched a five year financial program for the establishment of a home for their own members. There is also a beneficiary fund financed by the sorority for the benefit of members who are in need of medical attention.

Locally, each chapter helps in the community where help is most needed, often in cooperation with other organized social agencies such as the Red Cross, Community Fund and various health and social service associations. For four years the sorority has cooperated nationally with the Cancer Control Society.

In the past year the local chapter gave $125. to the Cancer Clinic, $50 toward paying for an Audiometer, in testing school children's hearing; $50 to the Dental Clinic; $250 in books for the nurses home; $47.50 in clothing and food for the needy at Thanksgiving and Xmas; $113.75 Phonograph - Radio to the Sunshine School; also other small donations to needy students, etc. The chapter raized this money by rummage sales, bake sales, selling Plastic food ice-preserver bags, etc.

The organization is governed by a national council and board of trustees. Mrs. Dorothy Jano of San Jose, Calif., is the national president.

Miss Dorothy Smith is president of Gamma providence for the year 1949-1950.

Dorothy Lucile Brook Wed To Lavaughn W. Oswalt

SHELBY—The Shelby Methodist church was the scene of the lovely summer wedding of Miss Dorothy Lucile Brook and La Vaughn William Oswalt Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Rev. Leonard Smith, assisted by the Rev. James Alexander Scott, officiated for the nuptials which were spoken before an altar decorated with two large beauty baskets of all white flowers, palms and ferns. Two seven branch candelabra lighted the scene. White satin bows and streamers marked the pews.

Miss Brook is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Brook, R. D. 1, Shelby, and Mr. Oswalt is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kochenderfer, Shiloh.

Mrs. Otto Shoup presided at the organ for the half hour recital of nuptial music which preceded the ceremony. Soloists were the bridegroom's cousins, Misses Doris and Marvel Oswalt.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a summer taffeta gown with portrait neckline. A circular bertha trimmed with fine Chantilly edged the low sheer marquisette yoke. From under the deep peplum extended the extremely full skirt and very long train.

The little heart shaped bonnet of Chantilly lace held in place the silk illusion veil which was worn by the bride's sister, Mrs. Stanley Huston, who served as matron of honor. Miss Brook carried a handkerchief carried by her grandmother at her wedding.

A white orchid showered with baby's breath topped the white Bible carried by the bride.

Other attendants for the bride were Miss Carol Andrews, bridesmaid, and little Marjorie Kay Marshall, flower girl. They are both cousins of Miss Brook from Mansfield. All the attendants' gowns were made with sheer yokes, edged with a double ruffle which was trimmed in lace in a tiny daisy design. The same ruffle effect repeated itself in the skirt to a low hip line. This, too, was edged in lace.

Little poke bonnets, of the sam material as their gowns, were worn by the attendants. Lace and flowers trimmed the bonnets.

Colonial bouquets of pastel flowers were carried by the matron of honor and bridesmaid. The little flower girl carried a miniature size bouquet.

Mrs. Brook chose a navy print dress with navy and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's grandmother was attired in a navy print dress with navy accessories. They both had corsages of red carnations.

Charles Young of Mansfield, a friend of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Guests were escorted to their pews by Stanley Huston, brother-in-law of the bride; Howard Osbun and Dale Oswalt, cousins of the bridegroom, from Mansfield.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors. Ping and green were the colors used for decorations. A four tiered wedding cake centered the table. Assisting with serving at the reception were Miss Gertrude Hoover, Miss Ada Long and Mrs. Ralph Norris, all friends of the couple.

For her honeymoon through the eastern states Mrs. Oswalt wore a pink sharkskin summer suit with white accessories and the orchid from the bridal bouquet.

After July 23 the couple will be at home at R. D. 1 Shelby.

Mrs. Oswalt is a graduate of Shiloh high school and is employed in the office of the Ohio Brass company. Mr. Oswalt, a graduate of Shiloh high school, is a member of the National Air Guard. He is an Employe of the Earnshaw Sheet Metal Supply company.

Out-of-town guests present at the wedding were from Mansfield, Cleveland, Lexington, Ashland and Plymouth.

Horoscope

By NENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, June 29

A particularly lively and constructive day, with matters moving at high pitch and with unusual enterprise and initiative. Splendid opportunities for forging ahead, on open and aboveboard tactics and as well by means of clever and well-organized strategies. Forthright and intelligent grasp of hidden factors or opportunities could yield rich and surprising returns. Skill and judgment go hand in hand for gain through glamorous or idealistic denouements. Far vision helps.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may make surprising change, contacts or agreements through special creative ability, supported by some curious, unpredictable or hidden factor, having singular power to change the drift of affairs, either by a "hunch," strange urge, or the contact of a person of glamor, ideals or unusual culture. Keen insight into such opportunity, handled with intelligence and practical skill, might turn the course of events into thrilling denouements. But keep the feet on the ground while the head maybe in the clouds.

CHILDREN'S HOME GROUP ENTERTAINS AUXILIARY

American Legion Members Given Program of Music and Readings at Monday Evening Meeting

FIFTEEN BOYS AND GIRLS from the Richland County Children's Home entertained members of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday evening at the Legion Home. The group presented many songs and humorous readings.

Seventy-five of the auxiliary were in attendance for the program and routine business session. Mrs. Don Leuthner presided for the meeting.

Mrs. Ina Hegnauer, child welfare chairman, reported paying rent and furnishing clothing for children of veterans' families. Mrs. Eugene Flory, rehabilitation chairman, told of a recent visit to Crile hospital and of buying groceries and paying rent for two families of disabled veterans.

Mrs. Jean Fuller, membership chairman, announced that there were 24 new members. The auxiliary voted to change the by-laws.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Fuller and Miss Josephine Kiehl. The next regular meeting will be held July 25.

Fun Group Organized

Members of the auxiliary to Alfred R. Harrington Post 3494. VFW, met to form a Cootiette club recently, at the home of Mrs. Robert G. Baehr, 399 Taylor road.

The following officers were elected: Chief Gray Back (president) Mrs. Baehr, Lady Louse (senior vice president) Mrs. Forrest Dill; Pious Louse (chaplain) Mrs. Margaret Schill; Sheckel Keeper (treasurer) Mrs. Mary Schettler; Crummy Chaser (conductress) Mrs. Fred Grasser; Louse Hunter (guard) Mrs. Bernard Lux; Scratcher (secretary) Mrs. Alex Floro; Ink Slinging Louse (historian) Mrs. Don McKim, Three Tight Wads, (trustees) Mrs. Virgil Hageman, Mrs. J. E. Augustyne and Mrs. Edward Russell; and Ivory Louse (pianist) Mrs. John Schneider.

The group met later in Memorial Hall with Mrs. Deesey Baker, grand organizer; Mrs. Iris Crowley, Chief Gray Back; and Mrs. Dema Niedenfuhr, Pious Louse, all of Marion. At this time application for the charter was sent to national headquarters in Sacramento, Calif.

Three more officers were elected, Wrestling Louse (initiation captain) Mrs. Harvey Burghard; and his assistants, Mrs. Austin White and Mrs. John E. Steele. It was voted to call the club "Petite Diables."

On June 26 the club met with members from Shelby and Marion. A picnic supper was served for guests and members' husbands. The club will be the fun organization of the VFW auxiliary. It will also do hospital work for veterans.

Garden Study Club Meets at Lisle Home

Mrs. Clarence Lisle, 238 Blymyer avenue, was hostess recently to members of the Garden Study club and one guest, Mrs. Robert Peele. Roses decorated the tables at which the one o'clock salad luncheon was served.

The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. R. R. Martin. A report on the magazine, "Garden Greetings", was given by Mrs. L. D. Bowers. Mrs. E. L. Zehrbach reported on the national magazine.

A paper on roses was given by Mrs. W. R. Burkhart. She said, "Tea roses were originated in China. The oldest hybrid tea rose was originated in 1867 in France. The name of the rose is the La France."

Members of the club displayed different specimens of roses for the general discussion which followed.

The next session will be on July 29 at the home of Mrs. John Cookman, R. D. 2.

GOOD WILL CLUB MEETS

Mrs. T. M. Case, 106 South Main street, entertained members of the Good Will club at her home last week. Luncheon was served and 500 played. Mrs. Grace Culp received the highest score. A picnic dinner will be held at North Lake park, July 21.

Revelers Club Entertained

Mrs. John Arnold, North Main street, entertained twelve members of the Revelers club, Friday evening. Two new members, Mrs. R. A. Fay and Mrs. M. Shavan, were welcomed into the club.

Plans for secret pals were made during the business meeting. Hearts was the diversion of the evening. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. T. Selman and Mrs. Elmer Whiteleather. A late luncheon was served. The next meeting will be held July 12 at the home of Mrs. Fay, 110½ West Third street.

HONOR BRIDE

Miss Josephine Kohls who became the bride of Bernard H. Schweinfus in St. Joseph's church, Saturday morning, has been honored with several parties. One of the most recent was given by Marguerite Dorian for members of the choir of St. Joseph's church.

Calvin Byers Speaks For Garden Club

Mrs. H. N. Keene, Sherman avenue, and Mrs. Lucille Shaw were hostesses to twenty members of the Astowela Garden club and three guests, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Byers and Miss Eleanor Carse, Friday afternoon.

The luncheon table at which Mrs. Grace Black presided, was centered with a bowl of petunias and baby's breath.

Arrangements and specimens of delphiniums, pansies, clematis, shasta daisies, lilies and roses were displayed by several members.

Mrs. C. V. McConnell, in the absence of Mrs. Carl Willsey, president, and Mrs. W. W. Tawse, vice president, presided during the short business session.

The guest speaker, Mr. Byers, was introduced by Mrs. C. W. Fox. "Wayside Weeds" was the topic of the talk given by Mr. Byers. Miss Carse, granddaughter of Mrs. Keene, entertained with a tap dance.

On July 8 the members will meet at the home of Mrs. P. J. Kelley, West Third street, with Mrs. Weston Cutter as the associate hostess.

Dorothy Sams To Head Group

Miss Dorothy Sams was elected to serve as councilor for six months at the meeting held Friday evening by the Lady Garfield Council, Daughters of America. The session was held in Eagles hall.

MRS. RICHARD E. DURTSCHI

Smith-Durtschi Nuptials Solemnized On Sunday

CRESTLINE—In a lovely formal wedding ceremony yesterday, Miss Betty Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith, North Henry street, became the bride of Richard Edwin Durtschi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Durtschi of Galion.

Vows were repeated before the altar of the Evangelical and Reformed church in Crestline. The Rev. W. L. Margard officiated. The custom of open church was observed. The altar was decorated with palms and ferns forming a background for the two large beauty baskets of Sno-Princess gladiolus and huckleberry. A large cluster of the same flowers and foliage was used in the center of the chancel with two seven-branch candelabra completing the setting.

Nuptial music was presented by organist, Theodore Rehl, of Marion, formerly of Galion, and soloist Paul Albert Furry, cousin of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a lovely Puritan type gown of skinner's bridal satin in a light ivory shade. The front of the bodice was fashioned with a front panel of imported Venice lace, extending into the back in a deep yoke.

Deep cuffs of lace finished the very tight long sleeves. Her dress buttoned down the back to a long torso and was finished with a bustle. Her circular skirt was styled with two deeply stitched tucks which extended over her hips, giving a bouffant effect. Her long train fell into deep folds and ended in circular scallops.

Her headpiece, also in a Puritan style, was made of the same lace which trimmed her gown, holding the fingertip veil of French silk illusion. The bride wore the diamond necklace of the bridegroom's paternal grandmother. She carried the traditional lace handkerchief of Alpha Pi Sigma sorority.

The bridal bouquet was composed of gardenias and stephanotis, centered with a white Folcana orchid. This was later removed and used as a going-away corsage.

The maid of honor was Miss JoAnn Holcker, a close friend of the bride. She was attired in a gown of light yellow starched marquisette. It was fashioned with slightly off-the-shoulder neckline, with two ruffles forming a bertha. The skirt was in tiers of three ruffles.

The bridesmaids were Miss Joyce Durtschi, of Galion, the bridegroom's sister and Mrs. A. J. Smith of Columbus, the bride's sister-in-law. They were attired in gowns similar to that of the maid - of - honor, in Nile green. All three attendants wore large picture hats of matching lace and marquisette, trimmed with flowers. They all carried small baskets of hairbraid filled with miniature June garden flowers including daisies, centuria, gypsophelia, delphinium blossoms and roses.

Kenneth Scott, of Mansfield, the bridegroom's cousin, served as best man. Albert J. Smith, of Columbus, the bride's brother, and Franklin King, of Galion, the bridegroom's cousin, escorted guests to their pews.

A reception for 200 was held in the church parlors, immediately following the ceremony. A four tiered wedding cake was used as a centerpiece. Two decorated heart-shaped cakes were placed on either side of the bridal table. Beauty baskets were also placed on the ends of the table. Summer flowers completed the decorations, throughout the room.

For her wedding trip to Washington, D. C., and through the east, the bride wore a yellow summer suit with a Panama hat and brown and white accessories. She wore the Folcana orchid from her bouquet. They will be at home at 2280 Astor avenue, in Columbus.

The bride is a graduate of Crestline high school. She attended at Capital university in Athens and is a member of Alpha Pi Sigma sorority. The bridegroom is a graduate of Galion high school, and is now a senior at Capttal university in Columbus. He is a Navy veteran of World War II. The bride has been employed as a secretary to Leslie K. Wagner, attorney-at-law, in Mansfield.

Mansfield Delegates Attend National Meeting of Sorority

Miss Dorothy Smith, Mrs. D. A. McCullough, Miss Helen Bunn and Mrs. D. A. Tucker, accompanied by Mr. Tucker and Mr. McCullough, left Saturday for Breezy Point Lodge, on Big Pelican Lake in Minnesota, to attend the national convention of Delta Theta Tau sorority. The sessions continue through Thursday. Delegates and members from 165 chapters of the sorority will attend.

A special train left Chicago Saturday arriving in St. Paul Sunday. There the delegates from the western and southern states will join members from the middle west and east, and all will reach Pequot Lakes together. Some members will go by private automobiles. Beginning Monday morning business sessions and attractive social events will take place for four days.

Delta Theta Tau Sorority is the largest non-academic organization of its kind in the United States. It was organized in 1903 at Muncie, Ind., and has as its primary purpose the advancement of philanthropy. National membership now numbers 11,500. The latest chapter installed was at Memphis, Tenn. Mary Pickford is an honorary member.

For more than 20 years Delta Theta Tau members have maintained a mountain school in Brinkley, Ky. On an 84 acre tract of a a mountain school in Brinkley, beautifully wooded hillside, they built one of the finest buildings in rural Kentucky and a home for the teachers. The sorority pays teachers' salaries, purchases books and equipment, pays taxes on the building and grounds, and clothes the children.

A certificate of achievement by the United States Navy in recognition of meritorious and outstanding services rendered to the Medical Department of the Navy during World War II has been awarded Delta Theta Tau. The sorority established a Brace Shop at Mare Island.

This past year the sorority launched a five year financial program for the establishment of a home for their own members. There is also a beneficiary fund financed by the sorority for the benefit of members who are in need of medical attention.

Locally, each chapter helps in the community where help is most needed, often in cooperation with other organized social agencies such as the Red Cross, Community Fund and various health and social service associations. For four years the sorority has cooperated nationally with the Cancer Control Society.

In the past year the local chapter gave $125. to the Cancer Clinic, $50 toward paying for an Audiometer, in testing school children's hearing; $50 to the Dental Clinic; $250 in books for the nurses home; $47.50 in clothing and food for the needy at Thanksgiving and Xmas; $113.75 Phonograph - Radio to the Sunshine School; also other small donations to needy students, etc. The chapter raised this money by rummage sales, bake sales, selling Plastic food ice-preserver bags, etc.

The organization is governed by a national council and board of trustees. Mrs. Dorothy Jano of San Jose, Calif., is the national president.

Miss Dorothy Smith is president of Gamma providence for the year 1949-1950.

Dorothy Lucile Brook Wed To Lavaughn W. Oswalt

SHELBY—The Shelby Methodist church was the scene of the lovely summer wedding of Miss Dorothy Lucile Brook and La Vaughn William Oswalt Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Rev. Leonard Smith, assisted by the Rev. James Alexander Scott, officiated for the nuptials which were spoken before an altar decorated with two large beauty baskets of all white flowers, palms and ferns. Two seven branch candelabra lighted the scene. White satin bows and streamers marked the pews.

Miss Brook is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Brook, R. D. 1, Shelby, and Mr. Oswalt is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kochenderfer, Shiloh.

Mrs. Otto Shoup presided at the organ for the half hour recital of nuptial music which preceded the ceremony. Soloists were the bridegroom's cousins, Misses Doris and Marvel Oswalt.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a summer taffeta gown with portrait neckline. A circular bertha trimmed with fine Chantilly edged the low sheer marquisette yoke. From under the deep peplum extended the extremely full skirt and very long train.

The little heart shaped bonnet of Chantilly lace held in place the silk illusion veil which was worn by the bride's sister, Mrs. Stanley Huston, who served as matron of honor. Miss Brook carried a handkerchief carried by her grandmother at her wedding.

A white orchid showered with baby's breath topped the white Bible carried by the bride.

Other attendants for the bride were Miss Carol Andrews, bridesmaid, and little Marjorie Kay Marshall, flower girl. They are both cousins of Miss Brook from Mansfield. All the attendants' gowns were made with sheer yokes, edged with a double ruffle which was trimmed in lace in a tiny daisy design. The same ruffle effect repeated itself in the skirt to a low hip line. This, too, was edged in lace.

Little poke bonnets, of the sam material as their gowns, were worn by the attendants. Lace and flowers trimmed the bonnets.

Colonial bouquets of pastel flowers were carried by the matron of honor and bridesmaid. The little flower girl carried a miniature size bouquet.

Mrs. Brook chose a navy print dress with navy and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's grandmother was attired in a navy print dress with navy accessories. They both had corsages of red carnations.

Charles Young of Mansfield, a friend of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Guests were escorted to their pews by Stanley Huston, brother-in-law of the bride; Howard Osbun and Dale Oswalt, cousins of the bridegroom, from Mansfield.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors. Ping and green were the colors used for decorations. A four tiered wedding cake centered the table. Assisting with serving at the reception were Miss Gertrude Hoover, Miss Ada Long and Mrs. Ralph Norris, all friends of the couple.

For her honeymoon through the eastern states Mrs. Oswalt wore a pink sharkskin summer suit with white accessories and the orchid from the bridal bouquet.

After July 23 the couple will be at home at R. D. 1 Shelby.

Mrs. Oswalt is a graduate of Shiloh high school and is employed in the office of the Ohio Brass company. Mr. Oswalt, a graduate of Shiloh high school, is a member of the National Air Guard. He is an Employe of the Earnshaw Sheet Metal Supply company.

Out-of-town guests present at the wedding were from Mansfield, Cleveland, Lexington, Ashland and Plymouth.

Horoscope

By NENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, June 29

A particularly lively and constructive day, with matters moving at high pitch and with unusual enterprise and initiative. Splendid opportunities for forging ahead, on open and aboveboard tactics and as well by means of clever and well-organized strategies. Forthright and intelligent grasp of hidden factors or opportunities could yield rich and surprising returns. Skill and judgment go hand in hand for gain through glamorous or idealistic denouements. Far vision helps.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may make surprising change, contacts or agreements through special creative ability, supported by some curious, unpredictable or hidden factor, having singular power to change the drift of affairs, either by a "hunch," strange urge, or the contact of a person of glamor, ideals or unusual culture. Keen insight into such opportunity, handled with intelligence and practical skill, might turn the course of events into thrilling denouements. But keep the feet on the ground while the head maybe in the clouds.

Garden Club Entertains

Members of the Pleasant Valley Garden club were hostesses to the Buckeye Garden club Friday afternoon at the cabin of Mrs. Harro Woltmann, West Fourth street road.

Mrs. Elden Johnson was chairman for the picnic lunch with Mrs. James McConnell, Mrs. Richard Sturges and Mrsl Lowell Bailet assisting.

After the lunch, corsages and "tussie mussies" were made for the General hospital. Mrs. Ephraim Brown, of the Mansfield Garden club, judged the contest. Her points of judging were based on originality, choice of colors and how well they were made.

First prize was awarded to Mrs. John Finefrock jr., and second went to Mrs. David Ott. Both winners are members of the Buckeye Garden club.

The next session will be an excursion to Malabar. Mrs. Robert Kuhn and Mrs. John Meifert are in charge.

As many as 50 different copper wheels, ranging from ⅛ inch to 4 inches in diameter, are used to engrave a design on American handmade glassware.

Miss Dorothy Linn Becomes Bride of John P. Yochem

CRESTLINE — St. Joseph's Catholic church was the scene, June 26, of the nuptials of Miss Dorothy Linn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Linn, North Columbus street, and John P. Yochem, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Yochem, of Galion.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Father F. A. Slattery before an altar decorated with gladioli, palms, ferns and candelabra. The Jubilee mass was sung by the bride's brothers, Tom, Bob, Jim and Dick. Miss Donna Smarto accompanied them on the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Ernest Linn, of Lake Galion, wore a bridal gown fashioned with a high neckline, long sleeves, and a long full skirt ending in a train covered with ruffles. Her veil was caught in a bonnet style. She carried a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Edward Briner, of Ada, the bride's sister, served as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Rose Zara, Miss Dolly Linn, and Miss Peggy Linn. Their dresses were fashioned with fitted bodices, berthas around the low necklines and long full skirts.

The matron of honor wore sea green organza over taffeta. The bridesmaids' colors were deep orchid with matching headpieces and bouquets. Little Nancy Linn, the bride's sister, served as flower girl in a yellow taffeta gown. Danny Yochem, the bridegroom's nephew, was the ring bearer.

Robert Yochem, of Galion, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The bride's brothers, Bob, Bill and Dick Linn, and her brother-in-law, Edward Briner, escorted guests to their pews.

The bride's mother was attired in an orchid sheer dress with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a brown sheer dress with white accessores. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. A color scheme of yellow, orchid and green was used. A four tiered wedding cake centered the serving table.

For their wedding trip the bride wore a pastel blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds. The couple will be at home in Galion upon their return.

The bride is a graduate of Crestline high school and is an employe of the Galion Iron Works. The bridegroom, a graduate of Galion high school, is an employe of the Perfection Steel Body company, in Galion.

Property of Astor Clan Gave New York's Avenue 'A' Its Name

NEW YORK — Scrapbook Memos: The house Abigail Adams dwelled in (when New York started) is still intact near the 59th St. bridge. . . . The reason it is called Avenue "A" is that most of the property there belonged to the Astor clan. . . . The gent who dreamed up one-way streets was a New Yorker named Wm. P. Eno . . .The reason for the iron bars on that warehouse on Peyster Lane: It was once a prison . . . The first White House (where Washington often dwelled) was No. 1 Cherry St. . . . Roosevelt St. was named not for Theodore or Franklin but for Isaac. He was a prominent business man and fiery spirit for Independence in pre-Revolutionary Days. He also founded the N. Y. Chamber of Commerce . . . Broadway's original name was "Breederweg," named by the Dutch. It was an Indian trail, then a path, and now Look!

Some years ago William M. Tweed was the foreman of a fire Co. One of its fire-engines had a tiger emblazoned on the machine. Later he became the notorious Boss Tweed of Tammany Hall.Which explains why Tammany's emblem is a tiger.

The first motion picture was exhibited in a theatre where Macy's now stands. The initial scene flashed on the screen was the pounding surf at Dover . . . It incited a panic among first-nighters who raced out of the theatre screaming — with fear they would be drowned . . . Gramercy Park (at E. 20th Street) means "Many Thanks" in Old English. But the Dutch word "Kromessie" gave it the name. Kromessie referred to a crooked stream that ran through it . . . Edwin Booth, the actor, founded The Players Club nearby. His statue is in the park—in the role of "Hamlet" . . . The reason you travel to Brooklyn, the Bronx and L. I. to bury your kin is that burials in graves were outlawed in Manhattan in the 1850s.

Mount Morris Park has a tower once used by fire-fighting volunteers as a lookout. Incidentally, a century ago New York didn't have a Fire Dep't. Blazes were quenched by volunteers. . . . There's no reason for panhandlers. The city has many welfare institutions ready to provide food and shelter gratis for unfortunates . . . Heat is piped into Radio City from a power plant at the foot of E. 45th St. . . . Best spot for viewing the East River's scenic-knacks is from uppity Beekman Place . . . Samuel Treadwell has the oddest claim to fame. His home (on East 4th Street) has been preserved as one of the town's historic landmarks. Treadwell's house was the first in the city to be supplied with gas.

"The Weekly Messenger" (John Peter Zenger's newspaper), located at the head of Broad Street, was burned in 1734 for "criticising the authorities" . . . One of the finest places to cool off in the humid weather is the restaurant on the 86th stanza of the Empire State Bldg. Fine for a sun-tan, too . . . The East River isn't a river. It is how Long Island Sound reaches the Atlantic Ocean . . . Forty persons can be accommodated in the head of the Statue of Liberty. Her forefinger is 8 ft. long . . . The iron fence around Bowling Green is the same one imported from England over 200 years ago.

Paul Revere rode down the hill (which is now Wall Street) to bring the news of the Boston Tea Party . . . The Downtown Association on Pine Street is so exclusive that Hulbert Footner's book ("NewYork")states "it is said to take 15 years to get in" . . . This is not to be confused with the Downtown Athletic Club, which is on West Street . . . Chinatown is confined to only three streets, Mott, Pell and Dovers . . . The only tree that will live in New York back-yards is the ailanthus (Tree of Heaven), which thrives along W. 10th Street and Patchin Place.

6 Injured In 2 Auto Mishaps

Vacationists Hurt In Area Crashes

Six persons were injured in two traffic accidents yesterday afternoon and early today east of Greenwich. All of the victims were from outside the state.

Injured in a mishap about 3:30 p. m., yesterday three miles east of Greenwich were Daniel D. Seibert , 61, Ft. Wayne, Ind., who suffered five broken ribs; his wife, Celia, 58, bruised ribs; their daughter Dana, 20, lacerations of the right arm, bruises, and contusions, and Mrs. Nettie Miller, 54, Conenaugh, Pa., possible fracture of the right arm and multiple bruises and lacerations.

The injured were taken to Willard Municipal hospital where all were reported in "fairly good" condition today.

State highway patrolmen said the car skidded off U. S. Route 224 during a heavy rain, plunged into an embankment, overturned, and then skidded on its top. Seibert was driving.

Two Pennsylvania residents were injured at 5:30 a. m. today when the car in which they were riding crashed into the rear of a moving steel truck on U. S. Route 250 south of the intersection with U. S. Route 224.

They were members of a Uniontown, Pa., family enroute to Michigan to camp and fish. After treatment at New London hospital the four were taken home in a Fitch ambulance.

Ashland county sheriff's deputies, who investigated, reported the truck didn't stop after the crash, apparently unaware of the mishap. C. O. Samtey, 70, suffered cuts over his left eye while his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Melvin Samtey, 50, suffered a fractured arm. Melvin Samtey, 52, driver of the car, and his son, Donald, 12, were unhurt. The car was badly damaged.

GRIM REMINDER—The signpost back of this overturned car is the final phrase in an advertising slogan reading "Saw a train and tried to duck it, kicked first the gas and then the bucket." Fortunately, the occupants of this car did not meet such a tragic fate. Mrs. Marzeta Barger, Lucas school teacher and wife of Supt. W. S. Barger, and her daughter, Peggy, Ohio State university senior, escaped serious injury when their car skidded on wet pavement on State Route 39 yesterday afternoon, and overturned. After nosing into a bank on the left side of the road, the car careened off the highway, coming to a halt on its top astride a small roadside ditch at the left of the pavement. Mrs. Barger and daughter received only minor cuts and bruises.

'JERSEY JOE' SIGNS—

Eight - year-old Larry Oswalt, of Vetsville, is the proud possessor of the autograph of Jersey Joe Walcott, who lost to Ezzard Charles on June 22 in his third try for the heavyweight championship of the world. Larry got Walcott's signature at Mifflin when the Walcott party stopped en route to New Jersey after the fight.

SOLVES PROBLEM —

One Mansfielder has solved the family transporation problem in a unique way. Passers-by stopped to stare this morning as a man rode briskly down Glessner avenue on a motorcycle. Attached to the front of the vehicle was a large cart affair in which rode a young boy and a large dog, both apparently enjoying the trip. The boy was half reclining with his feet up on the front rail of the cart, but the dog was sitting up eagerly taking in all the sights along the way.

SOMETHING'S FISHY—

The News-Journal staff prepared today for its annual Whale Derby at Charles Mill dam but complaints were heard on all sides. Veteran fishermen in the N-J ranks hurled charges of discrimination as rules of the affair were posted. It seems that under a handicap rating set up by the rules committee, any person who ever caught a fish is allowed to enter only tuna, salmon, mackerel, red snapper, grouper and barracukda in the championship contest. Amateurs will be allowed to enter bass, bluegills, catfish and other native fishes.

PRIZE FOR POSIES—

Some lucky and industrious school child will receive a $2 prize for the biggest sunflower produced in their gardens this summer. The prize, to be given in the individual school flower shows in September, was announced today by the Town and Country Garden club. The club, along with the Johnny Appleseed Garden club, has been distributing sunflower seeds to school children.

Governor Asks For Fund Hike

$2,000,000 Requested

Richland county may receive state aid to meet its ever-increasing poor relief costs, it was indicated today.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche today asked the legislature to make an emergency appropriation of two million dollars to increase the state's share of poor relief expenditures during the first six months of 1949.

Poor relief costs in Mansfield have increased steadily with factory layoffs since January, relief office records disclose.

The relief office predicted June relief costs would reach the high point of the year.

The governor's renewed recognition of the state-wide relief crisis came hard on the heels of legislative action to authorize the issuance of poor relief bonds by the counties.

Lausche said he was requesting Senate Majority Leader Margaret Mahoney to introduce the emergency appropriation bill.

He pointed out that the relief budget for the first six months was based on expenditures the last six months of 1948, "while the relief load has increased to the point where the state cannot meet its traditional matching of 50 per cent."

Ohio relief laws placed the responsibility of meeting relief obligations on the local areas but the state in the past has reimbursed them up to 50 per cent of their expenditures.

Reiterating his statement that relief is now the state's No. 1 problem, the governor stated:

"The increase in the relief load all over the state further demonstrates that the principal obligations of the state will likely fall into a completely different category than those which have faced us in the last seven years."

"When relief loads become greater the argument for increased grants of public money for personal services obviously grows less effective."

The governor obviously referred to school demands for an additional 27½ million dollars for teachers and ten million dollars asked for state employes.

The legislature earlier moved with record-breaking speed to permit the city of Cincinnati to meet its July poor relief obligations on time.

'Freshman' Congressman Calls Columnist For Labor Testimony

NEW YORK—The Hon. Andrew Jacobs (Dem.-Ind.), a freshman in Congress and an Indianapolis "labor lawyer" as I understand from his fomented publicity, has caused the U. S. marshal to summon me to a hearing by a special subcommittee of the House committee on education and labor. I am commanded, also, to bring along "all records, documents, lists of witnesses and any writing whatsoever" relating to the lack of "democracy" in unions.

With reservations, I will be delighted to comply and to prove that the power which during all these years has frustrated every effort by honest men to make it impossible for crooks, goons and communists to exploit American workers and the agony and necessity of the American republic was the corrupt political party of which Mr. Jacobs has the dubious honor to be a member.

I doubt that there is anything that anyone could tell an Indianapolis "labor lawyer" about the perfidy of this vicious force in our otherwise not half bad society that he doesn't know already because Indianapolis is the home of two of the most predatory parasites in the American Federation of Labor, the Carpenters' and Teamsters' unions.

Mr. Jacobs certainly should know that that which he calls "democracy" is a phantom in these two unions because their presidents, Hutcheson and Tobin, respectively, and each has the constitutional power to seize all books and financial accounts of any local union or council of locals when he may deem it necessary to do so and keep them indefinitely, or forever.

However, I am not interested in any lack of "democracy" in unions nor in "democracy" at all except as I detest and therefore may be said to have an interest in, any other loathsome thing.

Mr. Jacobs, like all the rest of his party and millions of dupes since the time of Woodrow Wilson, may stumble along in a dumb, stupid belief that "democracy" is something that we fought the first war to make the world safe for, but he probably knows better and uses the word in the seductive meaning with which the party has tried to imbue it.

The proposition that I will prove, not that it needs proving again after all the testimony in the record, is that this union corruption treads down the human rights and dignity of the people, sets up courts to circumvent the public court in the interests of the racketeers and robs rank and filers, employers and the public at large, all under license from the party of Mr. Jacobs.

★

WHEN I say I will be delighted to comply "with reservations," I mean that, of course, I would not think of producing letters written confidentially whose authors might be beaten up or legally voted out of their lawful vocations forever by gangs of racketeers acting under powers conferred on them by the laws and policies of the new deal.

Otherwise, I think I have no objection to the demand for my papers except that, of course, I am not going to haul a whole truckload down there and dump them in some corridor.

We might as well be as efficient as we can about this, and Mr. Jacobs can have no reason to think that I am holding back on him because I have been waving this flagrancy at the Democrats for years.

I told Jacobs the other day that it would be a waste of money to spend any more proving the lack of "democracy" in unions, but the spending habit is irresistible so instead of sending me an invitation which would have brought me to Washington, free, he used a subpoena, which means that I get transportation and per diem. What, No overtime?

Pastor Sent To Cleveland

Rev. R. W. McNary, pastor of the Ontario Community Methodist church for the past four years, will preach his first sermon at the Collinwood Methodist church in Cleveland Sunday.

Rev. McNary was appointed to the Cleveland pastorate by Bishop Hazen G. Werner when ministerial appointments were read at the close of the 11th annual session of the Northeast Ohio Conference of the Methodist church at Lakeside yesterday.

Rev. R. L. Krepps will succeed him as pastor of the Ontario church.

During Rev. McNary's pastorate at Ontario, the church was remodeled at a cost of $20,000, 130 new members were received into the church, and 95 persons received the sacrament of baptism.

Rev. McNary served as co-chairman of the Christian Rural Overseas Program and as tri-county chairman of the Methodist Ministrial association which includes Richland, Crawford and Ashland counties.

He was pastor of the Jefferson Methodist church for four years before coming to Ontario.

He and his family will reside at 15232 St. Clair avenue, Cleveland, starting next week.

Missionary To Show Movies

Rev. S. T. Burns, who has just returned from four years' service as a missionary in French West Africa, will speak and show 16-millimeter moving pictures of his work at a special service at the Grace Gospel church at 7:45 p. m. today.

Rev. Burns spent his time in Africa working among the Habbe tribe which has 200,000, members. Tonight's service is open to the public.

Rain Won't Halt City's Safety Town

Rain won't halt the operation of Safety Town, Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals said today.

Although 43 youngsters showed up for the first session of the safety school yesterday, Boals believes the threat of rain kept some boys and girls away.

"If it rains, we go in Prospect school building and continue the program," he said.

There will be five two-week sessions of Safety Town this year, all at Prospect school playground, Boals said. In past years the toyland town was moved to the various schools.

The school, designed to teach children who will enter the first grade next fall the fundamentals of safety, was originated by Boals in 1937.

Since that time the program has received nation-wide publicity. Last year 315 children attended the school.

Safety Town is a toyland village complete with street, sidewalks, buildings, tiny cars and a traffic light that flashes red, yellow and green.

The youngsters are taught one safety lesson each day by enacting hazardous traffic situations in the village.

Remain In Hospital

A 21-year-old woman and a 42-year-old-man who were seriously injured in separate area accidents last week were still in General hospital today.

Miss Ann Stevens, 21, of Berea, Ky., was reported in "good" condition by hospital attendants this morning.

Hospital attendants said the condition of Clarence Kozak, 42, of Bellville, still was "fair" today.

Miss Stevens suffered a skull fracture, lacerations of the face and arms, and leg injuries when her car struck a hay wagon near Lucas, then collided head-on with another car. Three others suffered minor injuries in the accident, which occurred Friday evening.

Kozak suffered contusions of the head, a fractured skull, and multiple lacerations of the face in a two-car collision three miles south of Bellville last Wednesday night.

Rolly Summers jr., of Danville, was killed in the accident, and five others were injured.

Heads Ohio Auxiliary

Mrs. Norman Hakes, member of the Auxiliary, Robert P. Spreng Post 26, Amvets, is the new president of the Ohio Auxiliary of Amvets, it was announced last night at a joint meeting of the auxiliary and Amvets.

Mrs. Hakes was elected at the state convention held in Sandusky last week end and took office Sunday.

The announcement of her election was made during a report on the convention given at last night's meeting.

More than 100 attended the joint meeting held to discuss summer activities of the Amvets and auxiliary.

The first event on the summer program will be a "hard times" dance at the Amvets club rooms, 1100 West Fourth street at 9:30 p. m. Wednesday.

On July 4, the Amvets will hold open house so the public can inspect the club rooms.

Robert Bonham, commander of the Amvets, appointed a ways and means committee during the business meeting. Members of the committee include David Becker, Joseph Rizzo, Greer Portz, and Marty Phals.

The next regular meeting of the Amvets will be held July 6, and the next joint meeting July 18.

Fall From Ladder Injures Man

Ray H. Shipley, 15½ North Mulberry street, was in critical condition at General hospital today after he suffered injuries when he fell off a ladder while painting a house yesterday afternoon.

Shiply's physician said he suffered a concussion and a laceration at the base of his skull when he fell about 5 p. m. yesterday. He was painting a house at 550 Acker drive, in Lincoln Heights, at the time of the accident.

Youths Win Scholarships

Two Chosen For Choir Camp

Two Mansfield youths have been awarded scholarships to Camp Wa-Li-Ro, Episcopal summer choir school and camp at Put-in-Bay, it was announced today.

The two, John Bolesky, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bolesky, 28 Shady lane; and Terry Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Moore, 194 Marion avenue, will sing in the annual festival choral evensong service at St. Paul's church, Norwalk, at 4 p. m. Thursday.

The boys were among 19 from the Grace Episcopal church who went to Camp Wa-Li-Ro June 20. The other 17 returned yesterday and the two scholarship winners will remain until next Monday.

Last week seven boys from the Grace Episcopal church won merit ribbons for their work at the camp. Winners of first place ribbons were David Balph, Joseph Banks, John Bolesky, Robert Coup, and Robert Knackstedt. Terry Moore and Richard Walters won second place ribbons.

The choristers will be brought from Put-in-Bay by special boat and cars to sing the service in Norwalk.

The service will be in charge of Paul Callaway, organist and choirmaster of the National Cathedral of Washington, D. C. Walter Blodgett, Cleveland musician, will be at the organ.

Take Car, Cash From Station

Police today continued an investigation of the theft of a 1948 model car and $60 in cash from a service station at Wayne and Orange streets.

The car, owned by the Burkhart Brewing company of Akron and driven by R. B. Chorpening, 989 Sunset boulevard, was missing Monday morning. Chorpening told police he left the car at the station to be serviced Saturday night.

Richard Studer, manager of the station, told police he didn't believe the car had been stolen until he found $60 missing from the cash drawer at the station. Studer told officers a boy, employed at the station, has failed to return to work since the double theft.

Officers said there was no evidence of burglary at the station.

Picking of Soap Box Derby Site Scheduled This Week

Site for the eighth annual News - Journal Soap Box Derby will be determined this week.

The big coaster race has been scheduled for July 23 but Derby officials have held off announcement of the site until they can ascertain the safest course for the young pilots. Another consideration in picking the race strip will be visibility for spectators.

The Soap Box event has been staged on the South Main street hill for the past three years but natural embankments for spectators are lacking.

Today a test run will be made on an undisclosed hill to check the slope for maximum performance. Earl Jordan jr., a first-year performer, will pilot his brother Dick's 1948 championship car in the run. Dick has outgrown his sleek racer.

If today's run is successful, the race site will be announced tomorrow.

Deadline for entering the big coaster race has been set for Friday. Area pilot - designers can sign for the Soap Box Derby at the Brandenburg Chevrolet company, co - sponsor of the Mansfield race with the News-Journal. Each entrant must be accompanied by a parent in signing up.

The race is open to youngsters 11 to 15 years of age. More than $1,000 worth of prizes will go to the youthful drivers with a four - day all - expenses paid junket to the national finals in Akron as the No. 1 award. There will also be parties arranged for the contestants for the week of the Mansfield race.

All participants will get a free trip to the national finals Aug. 14 as guests of Brandenburg's.
